Typhoon Hits Manila; 10 Persons Dead

Storm Winds Up To 85 MPH Slam Luzon

MANILA (AP) — Typhoon Winnie paralyzed this city of two million today. At least 10 persons were reported drowned and scores more were injured. The storm's winds of up to 95 miles an hour tore through the central Luzon Island before dawn, demolishing thousands of shanty homes and left Manila without power, light, newspapers and public transportation.

Unofficial reports said seven persons drowned in swirling flood waters in the Manila area. The communications blackout delayed word of casualties and damage in the provinces.

RADIOS SILENT

Rains continued but winds had subsided by late Tuesday morning as Winnie moved over the South China Sea toward the China mainland.

The Weather Bureau said the eye of the storm passed directly over Manila. The winds tore off roofing, knocked down stone and brick walls and uprooted huge trees.

Hundreds of cars and buses were stalled in flooded streets. Thousands of residents were stranded. Many areas were short of water because pumps could not operate.

Telephone poles were knocked down and news services blacked out. Radio stations were silenced when their transmitting towers were blown down.

Fifteen small yachts were reported sunk in the Manila Yacht Club's harbor. Three ocean-going ships were driven periscoping close to famed Dewey Boulevard.

Several Philippine air force planes were reported damaged at Manila International Airport. The airport's control tower was unusable, grounding all international and domestic flights.

Red Guerrillas Kill American Pilot, Gunner

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Communist guerrillas shot down a U.S. Army helicopter in South Viet Nam's northern mountains today killing an American pilot and his U.S. gunner.

It was the third American helicopter crash in the past five days with a total loss of eight Americans.

The crash brought the toll of U.S. dead in Viet Nam up to 244—145 of these killed in action against Communists.

An American spokesman said the helicopter was hit 35 miles south of Da Nang while on a supply mission.

A U.S. officer and an enlisted man were wounded. Their condition was described as good.

Two U.S. aviators were killed Friday when they were shot down in flames in the southern Mekong River delta. Two crewmen were wounded.

Four Americans aboard a helicopter were killed Monday when it crashed while leaving Cao Lan airfield in Kien Phuoc Province about 60 miles southwest of Saigon. This crash was apparently not due to ground fire, a spokesman said.

Approve Road Fund Measure

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee approved today a bill to direct the highway department to allocate $20,000 to each of Louisiana's 64 parishes for road maintenance.

A highway department spokesman said the funds already were provided in the state budget, and the bill merely would give legal authorization for the spending.

Sen. Sylvan Friedman, Natchez, offered the move for a favorable report on the House-passed measure and the committee approved without dissent.

Also returned a favorable report on a House-passed bill to provide a minimum $125 a month for school lunch employees.

Gov. John McKeithen has written into his administration budget a raise for low-paid state employees.

The bill was recommended to Senate finance a day earlier.

Lodge Says U.S. Shuns 'Colonial' Role In Warfare

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry Cabot Lodge said today for the United States to take over active command of the war in Viet Nam would be a return to colonialism.

Lodge, who resigned as ambassador to Saigon to campaign for Pennsylvania for the GOP presidential nomination, thus took a stand against a proposal made by a House Republican task force.

The task force group, which includes Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, chairman of the Republican Convention Platform Committee, proposed that Americans take over command of the forces in South Viet Nam instead of acting merely as advisers.

"If we do that," Lodge told reporters, "we become a colonial power. I think it is pretty well-established that colonialism is over. It would bring unfortunate results in the form of anti-American feeling, a tendency to let the Americans do it."

Viet Nam is a little country but it has brave soldiers and a competent command, Lodge said.

Lodge talked with newsmen after a closed session with the combined Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees.

He said he had reported to the senators that there are "sub-surface hopeful signs" that the war in Viet Nam is likely to go better.

He said the situation remains dangerous but he is hopeful of ultimate victory.

Honors

Lea Stamper Thompson earned a perfect average during the past semester at Louisiana State University. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lea S. Thompson, 1801 Oakmont St.

Six other Monroe students at LSU won places on the Dean's List for the spring term. They were Susan Ferguson, Martha M. C. Shelton, Frances L. Smith, Betty Jean Campbell, Marcia L. Service and Catherine J. Young.

Gets Award

Miss Edwina Patricia Hopkins, 800 Roselawn, Monroe, was a recent winner of the Cincinnati Literary and Music Society Award in piano.

Announcement of Miss Hopkins' honor was made at a Recognition Day program at the University of Cincinnati College-Conservatory of Music.

Ram Treated

Curocity or interest, call it what you may, but there was plenty of it today around the court house, especially on the St. John Street side.

The Barbados ram which is one of the favorites of youngsters at Bernstein Park was lying in the rear of a pickup truck, being tended by an attendant.

It seems the ram was en route, via a slight detour, back to the city zoo after undergoing a slight operation — for a hernia.

But, to the relief of all concerned, the ram had been given plenty of tranquilizers!

Adoula Resigns

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Premier Cyrille Adoula resigned today on his fourth anniversary of independence. Moise Tshombe, an old enemy who tried to make his Katanga Province independent, is widely expected to succeed him.

The fall of the moderate Adoula came as the last U.N. soldiers, who broke Tshombe's power in Katanga in 1963, flew out of the Congo. Behind them, the U.N. forces left a nation torn by a spreading leftist revolt in the eastern Congo.

Illinois GOP To 'Audition' 2 Contenders

Goldwater Turns Down Scranton Debate Challenge

CHICAGO (AP) — Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, scrambling to prevent a first-ballot nomination of Republican presidential contender, Sen. Barry Goldwater, vies for votes with the Arizona senator today.

The two will make separate one-hour request appearances before the key Illinois Republican delegation to the July 13 San Francisco convention. Also to appear is Harold Stassen, another candidate for the presidential nomination.

The latest Associated Press poll of delegates lists 693 tentatively committed to Goldwater and 138 for Scranton. Thirty-nine of the 58 Illinois delegates are pledged to Goldwater, 1 to former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and 18 uncommitted.

'GOOD IDEA'

Scranton, while on a delegate seeking drive in the South Monday, challenged Goldwater to a face-to-face debate before the Illinois delegation. The challenge was ridiculed by Goldwater, who said, "Why should I stand in front of a delegation that I already have and argue with another Republican?"

For Scranton, the meeting today will put his appeal to Republican delegates squarely on the line.

Illinois GOP Central Chairman Victor Smith, who is also co-chairman of the delegation, told The Associated Press he expects the delegates to vote their preference after the meeting.

"It might be a good idea to get the delegation more or less on record and end all the speculation," Smith said.

Smith said he did not expect Scranton to fare well in his quest for more delegates. "I would say Goldwater's position is real fine," he said.

Also in Chicago was a delegation of civil rights demonstrators from Scranton's home state.

Millionaire Bank Owner Found Stabbed To Death

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Jacques Mossler, millionaire owner of banks in four states, was found stabbed to death today in his luxurious apartment on Key Biscayne.

The frantic barking of Mossler's boxer dog, Rocky, gave officers a clue to the time the killer struck. Irene Durr, manager of the apartments, told police she heard the dog about 2 a.m.

Rocky was chained in the same room where Mossler was slain. It was not determined whether the intruder had chained the animal.

Mossler's blonde wife and their four adopted children found the body of the 69-year-old tycoon beside a sliding door leading to a balcony overlooking the Atlantic.

Mossler was alone in the apartment. His wife told officers she was out riding with the children and did not return home until about 4:30 a.m.

The family has been dividing its time in recent years between the Miami area and several homes in Texas.

TWO YOUNG children died in fire that swept small home in right background after it was hit by pilotless jet fighter plane early today. The plane upset several automobiles parked in yards before it exploded against home. Neighbors who escaped injury talk with firemen. Killed were a brother and sister, Todd Gifford, 10, and Pamela, 8. (AP Wirephoto)

Plane Rams Home; Two Children Die

HAVERHILL, Mass. (AP) — A silent and pilotless jet fighter slashed into a sleeping neighborhood early today, brushing half a dozen homes and a dozen cars before exploding into a house at the end of the street, killing two children.

Todd Gifford, 10, and his sister, Pamela, 8, perished when they were trapped in their one-story ranch house and burned to death.

Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl H. Gifford, escaped practically unhurt.

Capt. D.F. Sullivan, pilot of the Massachusetts Air National Guard Sabre Jet, said the plane exploded as he returned from a proficiency flight to Maine.

Sullivan said he was at about 2,500 feet and ejected himself because, "I knew I was headed away from Haverhill."

But he said he then saw "a ball of flame erupt. The plane had taken a 90-degree turn after I jumped out. I prayed the area was uninhabited."

Sullivan parachuted into a tree, cut himself down and walked to the Merrimack River. He said he inflated a life raft and was in the river using his radio when he was rescued by a Coast Guard helicopter.

The crash started a three-alarm fire that damaged several other homes.

'BALL OF FIRE'

The plane careened about 100 yards down Lackey Street, ripping up chunks of pavement, tearing down utility wires, bouncing into cars and brushing other homes before the fuselage buried itself in the Gifford house.

Police Chief James J. Shanahan of Groveland, just across the river from Haverhill, was standing with a friend, Earl Sweetser, and saw the fighter plane "nosing down and apparently headed for a shopping plaza."

Then they heard an explosion and saw a "ball of fire."

Sweetser, the first person to reach the Gifford house, said he managed to get about 15 feet inside the front door, but was halted by flames.

Code Of Ethics Debate Warms Up

By SAM HANNA
Legislative Writer

BATON ROUGE — Gov. John J. McKeithen's proposed code of ethics today drew fire from one of his own floor leaders as a New Orleans attorney contended the measure was unconstitutional. The House Judiciary Committee reviewed the bill for two hours then recessed to consider 29 amendments later today.

Rep. Lantz Womack, a floor leader from Winnsboro, said the bill "protects attorneys but discriminates against insurance people."

"This bill is cloudy at the best," Womack said. "Anything that's as far-reaching as this probably should be debated for a year."

The Senate-passed bill is McKeithen's number one legislative item but it still has to clear the House before reaching the governor's desk for his signature.

'VERY CLEAR'

"It is very clear that the measure is unconstitutional," said Cy Courtney, a New Orleans attorney who owns the Louisiana Legal Publications.

Courtney, appearing as the only opponent of the bill, told the committee that a three-man commission to be appointed by the governor and the Legislature to administer the code over state officials would be "accountable to no one."

He said the bill was "contrary to our system of checks and balances."

"Are there any violations covered in the code that aren't already found in the law?" asked Rep. Risley Triche of Napoleonville.

"I have found none," Courtney replied.

Chairman John Garrett of Haynesville recessed the committee as the House convened at noon. The Senate was still in session.

Garrett said some 29 amendments (see CODE page 3-A)

Rain Chances Will Decrease

A check of rainfall reports for Monday showed that Monroe was away down the ladder in amounts received compared to some other reporting stations.

Some of the totals were: Monroe, .05; Columbia, 2.10; St. Joseph, 2.00; Oak Ridge, .33; Winn, .27; Calhoun and Jonesville, traces.

Scattered thunder showers are predicted this afternoon and evening, but chances for rain will be decreasing by Wednesday. High today and Wednesday will be 88 to 92, with an overnight low of 70 to 74.

High in Monroe Monday was 92 and the overnight low was 71.

Favorite Son Backs Goldwater

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John J. Williams, favorite-son candidate of Delaware Republicans, announced today he supports Sen. Barry Goldwater for the Republican presidential nomination.

Williams said the Republican party has no candidate better qualified than Sen. Goldwater. "I have asked the Delaware delegates to the San Francisco convention, who have indicated a desire to honor me with a favorite-son designation, to vote for the candidate of their choice before the first ballot is tabulated," Williams said.

The 12 Delaware delegates had been listed as favoring Williams.

25 Survive Explosion Off Gulf Coast

Some Badly Burned; Taken To Morgan City

MORGAN CITY, La. — (AP) — A multi-million dollar floating oil rig exploded off the Louisiana coast before dawn today. At least 25 persons were killed and 13 others were missing.

The Coast Guard said at least 25 survivors, some badly burned, had been picked up. Helicopters and boats were ferrying the survivors to this coastal fishing town about 70 air miles west of New Orleans. Other helicopters and boats were searching the choppy Gulf of Mexico for more survivors. The Coast Guard cutters Point Lee and Point Cutters were standing by.

Some of the first survivors to arrive at Lakeshore Hospital here were unconscious. Others were able to walk away from the rescue helicopters.

At least 42 men were aboard the twin-hulled rig, which was operating 78 miles southwest of Morgan City in the area known as Block 273 of Eugene Island.

BEGAN TO BUCKLE

The 260-foot long rig—actually a drilling ship—is owned by Reading and Bates of Morgan City. It had moved to the explosion site only Monday.

Half the men on the "C. Baker" were asleep when the explosion occurred about 3:30 a.m.

The first survivors to reach here said the on-duty crew hit a shallow high-pressure pocket of gas while drilling at 640 feet. The gas began seeping up into the rig.

"The floor began to buckle and we knew it was time to get off," said one survivor.

Some had gotten on the "Delta Service," a workboat alongside when sparks on the rig touched off the explosion.

Those on board were trapped momentarily by flames which leaped skyward and covered the rig and surrounding waters. Wind whipped the flames away from one side of the rig and some of the men were able to jump into the water.

4 OTHER RIGS

"It stood up on its end and down she went," said another survivor, describing how the drilling rig sank in more than 100 feet of water.

A spokesman for Reading and Bates here said the C. P. Baker, built last year, cost his company "about $6 million." He said the firm has four other rigs operating in the Gulf.

The crew slept aboard the rig, with each shift having separate quarters. The men have 12 hour tours.

Grammar School Bill Is Approved

News-Star Legislative Bureau

BATON ROUGE — A bill deeding the Central Grammar School property in downtown Monroe to the Monroe city council today passed the House Judiciary B Committee.

Rep. Lawrence Gibbs of Monroe advised the committee that the bill would clear the title on the property so that the city council possibly could convert it into a city park.

The bill was sponsored by Sen. Jamar Adcock by request. It now goes to the House for final passage.

The question over legal ownership of the property has gone unanswered for many years. The Monroe City School Board has endorsed the bill.

Turkey Renews Invasion Threats In Cyprus Strife

LONDON (AP)—Turkey has threatened anew to invade Cyprus unless Greece accepts United Nations proposals for negotiations to settle the strife between the Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

Turkish Premier Ismet Inonu told the British government Monday that U.N. mediator Sakari Tuomioja may have only one more chance to settle the dispute by peaceful means.

Inonu told a news conference that Turkey considers it still has the right to intervene militarily in Cyprus despite the presence of the U.N. peace force on the Mediterranean island.

"There is no contractual provision which would deny Turkey the right of intervention during the presence of United Nations troops in the island," he said.

Inonu said the next few days would show if Greece is prepared to accept diplomatic proposals to negotiate the issue.

Turkish diplomats said Tuomioja is expected to propose that he make a fresh attempt to reach a settlement in separate negotiations with the Greek and Turkish governments.

"If these negotiations should fail, we do not see how we could escape the absolute necessity of exercising our treaty right to intervene in the island," a high Turkish source said.

"We have prepared to send our troops into Cyprus on four different occasions up to now and the latest occasion was on June 5."

"Only the intervention of the United States stopped us from going, but the Americans now realize, and we understand they have told the Greek government so, they will not be able to restrain us indefinitely."

The Cyprus independence agreements of 1960 made Britain, Greece and Turkey the guarantors of the island republic's constitution and gave them the right to intervene individually to uphold the constitution.

Archbishop Makarios, the Greek Cypriot president of Cyprus, has said he considers the constitution and its special rights for the Turkish Cypriot minority no longer binding.

Greek Premier George Papandreu, after conferring with President Johnson last week and presumably being informed of the Turkish threat, cabled Makarios that "a Turkish landing would mean war."

Inonu has been conferring with British leaders since Sunday after talks with Johnson. The Turkish premier told British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home he had information that Greece has secretly raised its garrison on Cyprus far beyond the 950-man ceiling allowed by the 1960 treaties.

The Turkish premier said his government would accept only one of two solutions to the crisis: a partitioned Cyprus with the Greek and Turkish parts united in a federal government, or "double enosis," a partitioned Cyprus with the Greek Cypriot part united with Greece and the Turkish Cypriot part united with Turkey.

The Greeks and the Greek Cypriots have rejected partition. A communique issued after Inonu's talks with Douglas-Home said Britain and Turkey consider the 1960 treaties are still valid.

In Paris, U.S. Ambassador Charles E. Rohlen outlined to President Charles de Gaulle the substance of the Washington meetings between Johnson and the Greek and Turkish premiers.

PUBLIC SHORELINE

BATON ROUGE—Reps. Lawrence Gibbs and George Wood of Monroe introduced a resolution in the House Monday requiring the state to purchase shoreline property on future state-built lakes to be used for public recreation.

The resolution requires the purchase of at least 33 per cent of the shoreline acreage, back to a distance of 1,000 feet from the normal water line. It also provides for boat launching ramps and public roads with parking space and picnic areas.

Expenses of buying the additional property and building the facilities would be included in the over-all cost of the project.

Reapportioning
Bill Returned
To Committee

News-Star Legislative Bureau

BATON ROUGE — The Senate voted 28-11 Monday night to send the reapportionment bill back to the Judiciary Committee, giving Sen. Jules Molere of Metairie another setback on his bill.

Sen. Jamar Adeock, a floor leader from Monroe, made the motion to send the measure back to his committee, where he says he will study all reapportionment bills at the same time.

The only north Louisiana lawmakers voting against the motion were Sen. Spencer Myrick, Oak Grove, and Sen. Harold Montgomery, Doynine.

A committee was appointed by the Legislature to study this problem after the U.S. Supreme Court ordered state legislatures to reapportion on the basis of population.

The Legislature met in special session last year to reapportion the House, but left the Senate untouched. Gov. John J. McKeithen has proposed another special session in the fall to redistrict the Senate.

Molere's bill would place Ouachita Parish in a senatorial district alone and change other northeast Louisiana districts to the following:

Jackson, Lincoln and Union; Morehouse, West Carroll and East Carroll; Grant, Natchitoches and Winn; Franklin, Madison and Richland; Caldwell, LaSalle, Concordia, Catahoula and Tensas.

Innocent Plea Entered

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI)—The first U.S. Army officer to be court-martialed for defecting to the Communists in Europe pleaded innocent today to charges of desertion and larceny.

Capt. Alfred Svenson, 31, of Scranton, Pa., pleaded "not guilty to all specifications of all charges" through his defense counsel on the second day of the unprecedented court martial.

Prosecutor Maj. Charles T. Reese, 45, of Tuscaloosa, Ala., told the six-man officer jury he would prove the Lithuanian-born tank officer deserted and stole the jeep he drove into East Germany May 4, 1963.

The Russians ushered Svenson out on May 7—one year and three days later—and the East Germans announced he was expelled because he proved "unworthy of Communist asylum."

Reese said he would prove Svenson declared himself a Communist and asked directions to East Germany during a tour of border area taverns the day he defected.

Svenson tried to make his soldier-driver take him into the East but the driver refused, Reese said.

"Svenson then put on his steel helmet and drove across himself."

Svenson was "gainfully employed" by Communist radio and told Western newsmen "how much he liked it and was satisfied in East Germany," Reese said.

Ticket Sales For Pageant Going 'Well'

Ticket sales for the 1964 Miss Louisiana Beauty Pageant, to be held here July 2-4 at Neville High Auditorium, are going "quite well," ticket chairman Joe Maggio Jr. said today.

Persons wanting tickets can call the special Junior Chamber of Commerce office at 387-0356 and order tickets. The office is open from 9:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. daily, Maggio said.

Tickets for the pageant are still being sold for all three nights.

Choice seats, which are priced at $8 for all three performances, are almost gone, the chairman announced. Quite a few of the $6 seats remain to be sold, and so far only the first three rows of the balcony are sold out.

Single-night tickets for just one performance will be sold each day once the pageant gets started, Maggio added.

Any seats left over after the three-night combinations are sold will be available for individual night sales, he explained. Tickets for Thursday night's portion of the pageant only will be on sale Thursday, Friday night's on Friday and Saturday night's on Saturday.

However, Maggio urged the public to buy the tickets entitling them to be admitted all three nights for better seats at "considerable savings."

He listed the following breakdown on individual night tickets:

For the main floor inside seats, priced at $8 for three nights, $3 each Thursday and Friday nights and $5 Saturday night.

For the outer section of the main floor, $6 for all three performances, $2 each Thursday and Friday nights and $4 Saturday.

For balcony seats, combination price $4, $1.50 each Thursday and Friday, $2.50 Saturday.

Segregationist Claims Negroes Copy Africans

GENEVA PARK, Ont. (AP)—A Southern segregationist told an audience of high school students Monday that U.S. Negro leaders, emulating the new African nations, have adopted a policy of black supremacy.

William Simmons of Jackson, Miss., administrator of the Citizens Council of America, said in the new African states white men have been murdered, shamed and deprived of all fundamental rights.

He predicted that white citizens of the United States will rebel against civil rights legislation, which he said has robbed them of their freedom.

Simmons asserted the 14th Amendment was originally intended to safeguard property rights only. Other so-called rights must be earned, he declared.

"They say we have to integrate to appease world opinion," Simmons told 77 students at a conference on race problems sponsored by the United Nations Association of Canada.

"But this world opinion is a manufactured thing. Several Peace Corps members who had been in Africa said the natives there had never heard of America. So much for world opinion."

Simmons said Canadians cannot be expected to understand a situation with which they have so little contact.

"I believe I am the first Citizens Council representative to speak in Canada, which indicates that our views are not known to you," he said.

"And I see that in Canada you have no race problems because you have no Negroes and your Indians are segregated on government reservations."

He said propaganda has disturbed and distorted the Negro's actual feelings and experience in the South. Southern Negroes are embarrassed and resentful of Northern agitators and missionaries who went to Mississippi, he claimed.

"We have no such upheavals as have racked England," he said. "Negroes get a better education in Southern separate schools than they do in Northern integrated ones, and we show a remarkable tact and courtesy to our Negro neighbors. Government laws could never achieve that."

Robert Gore of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) had been scheduled to reply to Simmons' argument but canceled his engagement because of the disappearance of three civil rights workers in Mississippi.

Shakespeare Welcomed In Harlem Park

NEW YORK (AP)—Shakespeare went to a slum-area park in Harlem Monday night. The Negro community welcomed the play with a down-to-earth gusto seldom matched by sophisticated Broadway audiences.

A touring troupe presented "Midsummer Night's Dream" to an overflow audience of 1,600 ranging from babies in arms to a deaf old man who didn't have a hearing aid.

The laughs were lusty—the applause thunderous.

Kelly Jean Peters, who played Hermia in the comedy said the night's work was "not rewarding than any I can think of."

"Somehow there is a certain kind of excitement in playing to an audience like this," she said.

Clifton James, who portrayed Nick Bottom, said he could "go on and on" playing for such audiences.

"When they laugh at a funny line here or clap at a good straight line, you know they mean it from the heart," he said.

CODE

ments to the code of ethics would be considered by the committee later today. He hopes to get the bill out on the floor for final passage later in the week.

McKeithen's executive counsel, Carlos Spaht, explained the code covering state employees, board members, lawmakers and other state officials.

"Why don't you put the judiciary under the code?" Triche asked.

"We just don't think you can do it," Spaht answered. "Where would you go if you had an appeal?"

He said the code would provide a "set of rules and regulations to spell out conflicts of interest."

"Criminally, I think everything we have been covered," Spaht said.

He told the committee that if the Legislature didn't like the code it could correct it at the next session.

"I'm not saying it's the answer," he said. "The governor isn't saying it either but we can try it."

Womack asked whether the code would cover two football tickets the lawmakers receive from LSU.

"No, sir it doesn't," he said. Rep. Max Maxwell, an insurance man from Urania, said, "We're being penalized to serve the public."

Womack defended insurance agents also explaining, "We have some legitimate insurance agents."

Triche, an attorney, said the bill was about 40 pages long, explaining that he had read it but didn't understand it.

Deficits And Hard Cash

Some of the discussions of the national debt would sound like a household argument over family bills if it were not for the difference in the figures involved.

Last Friday the U. S. Senate gave President Johnson the signal to go ahead and boost the temporary national debt limit by nine billion dollars. This will send that measure of federal over - spending up to the highest ceiling in history — $324 billion.

The chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, Harry Byrd of Virginia, and the second ranking member of that group, Russell Long of our own state, immediately disagreed over the raising of the debt ceiling.

Senator Byrd, an expert in the field of government finances, came out against the move because he feels the administration is on a "deficit-debt binge" with no end in sight.

Senator Long defended the boost as though it were a matter of course. He used the so - called "gross national product" as the basis of his reasoning, which is not as concrete a matter as a family income in relation to its indebtedness.

Nonetheless, Long made a comparison between the new debt limit and gross national products as of now and the year following World War II. Immediately following the war, according to Long's argument, the national debt was 127 per cent of the gross national product. Now the debt is 50 per cent of that measure of the nation's output of goods and services.

Secretary of the Treasury, Douglas Dillon, told the Senate Finance Committee last week that the debt would go as high as $321 billion in the fiscal year starting July 1. So with the debt soaring to such a figure, he said it would be advisable to add on the three extra billions leeway for contingencies.

Is this the sort of "frugality" President Johnson spoke of in his very first speech after he assumed the presidency? The turning off of light bulbs in the White House and the call for all governmental departments to reduce personnel on the payrolls appeared to be a healthy indication that an economy drive really was in progress.

Yet the figures show that the first Johnson budget will run the public debt nine billion dollars higher than the last one outlined by the late President Kennedy. The temporary ceiling was pushed to $315 in the last Kennedy budget. The limit will rise, by virtue of last week's action in the Senate, to $324 billion for the first Johnson budget.

There is a so-called "permanent limit" of $285 billion, but it now stands as a milestone we've passed long ago. In order to get back to that figure, the nation would have to apply nearly $10 billion a year for four years to the debt. And any keeper of family records can tell the administration that you don't cut down on debts by buying more on credit.

We feel Senator Byrd was absolutely right when he said the administration like too many of those in the past is on a "deficit - debt binge" with no end in sight. And every time the deficits go up, the buying power of every dollar in America — and around the world for that matter — goes down. None of us can get ahead that way.

What's An Isolationist?

In rounding up as many "bad names" both new and old to apply to GOP presidential aspirant Barry Goldwater, his opponents have reached away back for the "isolationist" label.

The term is really pre-World War II in this country, so we don't believe it will stick. Some statistics show that 63 per cent of our population was yet unborn or under 21 years of age at the time World II ended. So we can only project the question: "Daddy, what's an isolationist?" if that term is pinned on Senator Goldwater to any great extent during the coming campaign.

Chances are that many of the "dads" in question who came through the period of the 1940's might reply that it would have been a good thing if we had a few more real isolationists in those days.

But the present allegations against Senator Goldwater in that respect appear to come mostly from overseas. An editorial in Lord Beaverbrook's London Daily Express was one source. Shortly after the Arizona senator's victory in the California primary, the charge was made that Britain should not rely on the United States for a nuclear shield "if the Americans were going to elect a president like Goldwater."

The fact is, as a Life magazine editorial made clear last year, that Senator Goldwater is a strong supporter of the three organizations that are committed to the defense of the free world. These are the North Atlantic Treaty Organization — of which Britain is a member — the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization, as well as the Central Treaty Organization, which took the place of the Baghdad Pact in the Middle East.

Unlike Senator J. William Fulbright, who has now openly advocated an isolationist policy towards Cuba, Senator Goldwater takes the position that Cuba is a matter of major concern — that we must do everything in our power to tighten the economic boycott already on our books regarding the Castro government.

Anyone who had suggested that we disregard a Japanese attack on Hawaii back in 1941 would have been correctly labeled an isolationist. But it seems a bit unusual that a senator who wishes to play down a communist base only 90 miles off Florida would not be termed such, while another with thinking better geared to our world defenses would be referred to as an "isolationist."

Unlike Senator Wayne Morse, who advocates our pulling out of South Viet Nam and abandoning what remains of that country to the communists, Senator Goldwater believes that the United States should use whatever methods are required to repulse the Viet Cong forces there and halt a Red takeover of Southeast Asia.

There were also those Americans who pressed for a coalition government for Laos — which has by now resulted in a country which is under communism's thumb. The Arizona senator was one of the few in Congress who predicted at the time that this would happen if the United States foolishly trusted the Russians and Red Chinese at the Geneva meeting where the neutralist government for Laos was established.

It is true that Goldwater voted against the nuclear test ban treaty. But in so doing he put the "isolationist" tag right where it belongs — on Soviet Russia, the only nation in modern times to wall itself in, literally.

He said that if the Russians were really desirous of reducing world tensions, they should demonstrate this intention by tearing down the Berlin Wall and removing Soviet troops from Cuba.

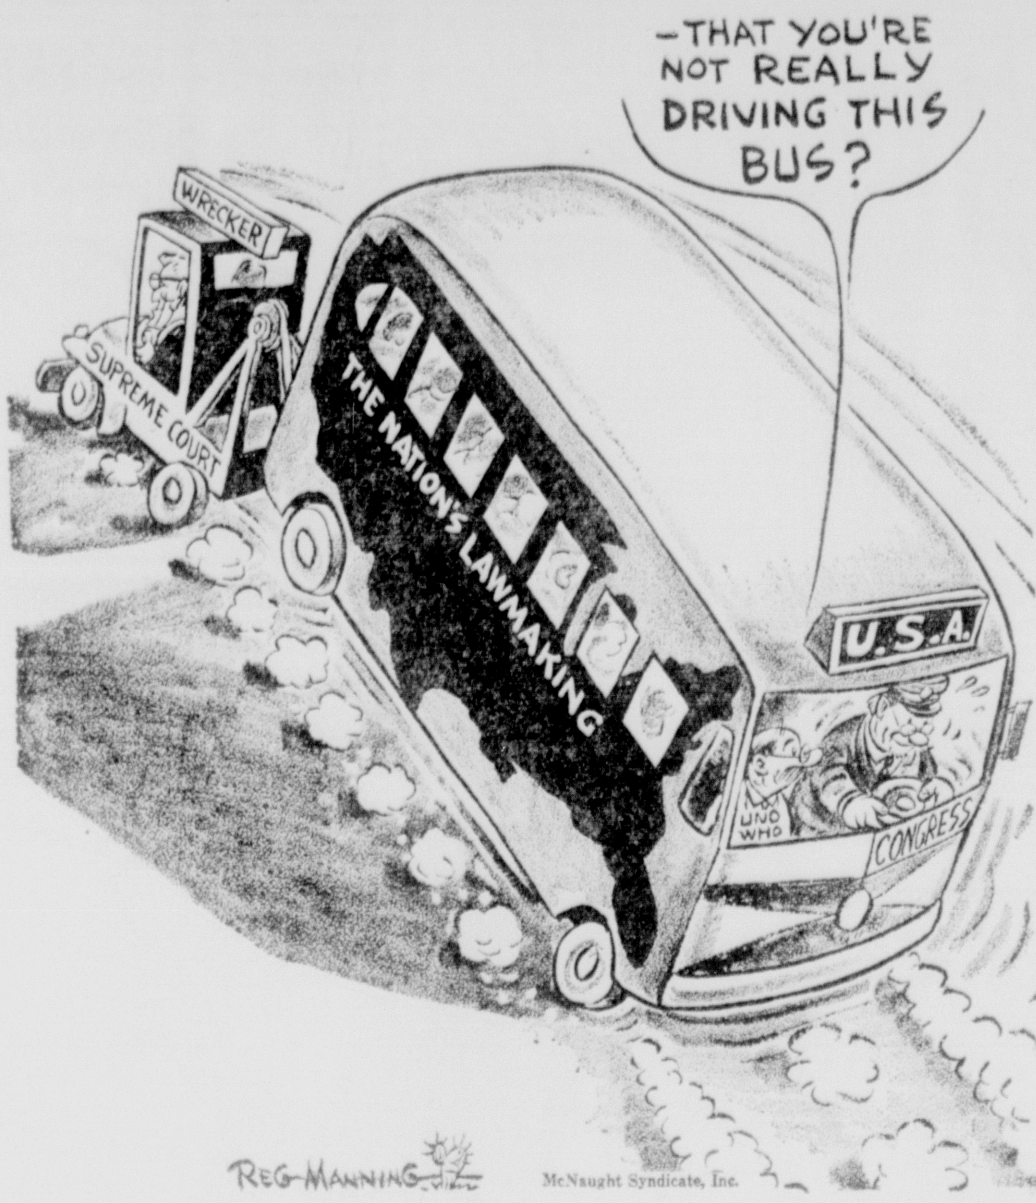

The treaty passed the Senate overwhelmingly. But the Berlin Wall still isolates the bulwark of communism from the outside world and Soviet troops are still in Cuba.

Certainly, we find it difficult to agree with some that Goldwater's so called "isolation" stems from his opposition to the direction in which the United States is heading. In fact, as a constructive critic of U. S. foreign policy, he and many others might be less opposed to our foreign policy if we seemed to be heading in definite direction at all.

Since the term "isolationist" is indeed an old one, Goldwater's critics can try a two-sided approach. But the Arizona senator cannot be an isolationist and a war monger at once.

The truth is, of course, that he is neither — as we suspect most of his opponents realize.

Do You Get The Funny Feeling—

Appointment Of General Taylor Indicates Tougher Stand

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — President Johnson's appointment of General Maxwell D. Taylor to be ambassador to Vietnam means that the United States wishes to serve notice on all concerned that the war in southeast Asia has to be won, even if it takes more and more American military forces on land, sea and in the air.

There comes a time in nearly every world crisis when firmness and resoluteness must be asserted, though there is always a risk that the other side may miscalculate and compel an intensive war to be fought.

The United States has been patient for many years now about the southeast Asia situation. If the Red Chinese take over southeast Asia, they will become a much more threatening factor in the entire western Pacific, which includes not only Formosa but the Philippines and Japan. It also could mean a disruption of the situation in the whole of Asia, particularly in India and Malaysia.

THE SIMPLE truth is that the Washington authorities are not going to let the Communists take over in southeast Asia. The United States now is deeply in earnest, and it may be expected that the leaders of both political parties will back up the government.

The American viewpoint has recently been expressed privately by high officials in many conferences with newspapermen. Deep disappointment has been voiced that our European Allies who are also members of the southeast Asia Treaty organization have not been as co-operative as they could be in handling problems in the Far East.

The French, for example, say they don't want to see southeast Asia communized, but at the same time they keep opposing military solutions, thus giving the impression to Moscow and Peiping that the Allies are not going to put up a fight against continued aggression.

There has been too much talk in the past few months of appeasing Red China with promises of enlarged trade as well as diplomatic recognition or membership in the United Nations. Apparently Peiping got the idea that the United States was willing to pay almost any price for peace. But a distinct turn in the whole situation occurred recently when President Johnson decided that he was tired of vacillating policies. He is not interested in trying to achieve a status quo in which the communists would retain the benefit of their aggressions in southeast Asia.

ALL THAT the American government wants is that the countries in southeast Asia shall become truly independent and not be controlled from the outside by designing governments interested only in provoking more and more conflicts, particularly revolution, whether in Vietnam, Laos, Cambodia or Thailand, in all of which infiltration by the Red Chinese has been steadily increasing.

It might be wondered why the United Nations doesn't undertake this job. But, unfortunately, the Communists have so thoroughly infiltrated the United Nations that they are today able to block action in the security council. If a war of major proportions arises, however, it is difficult to see how the United Nations can remain aloof. Ultimately, as happened in Korea, the United Nations will have to join with the United States in adopting military measures to repel aggression.

General Taylor, as chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, has been spending a good deal of his time studying the military problem in southeast Asia. He knows the background of it thoroughly and, having himself served in Korea, he is familiar with the problems of land warfare in the Asian world.

IT ISN'T customary for a military man of such prominence suddenly to be chosen as ambassador. Theoretically, an ambassador reports only to the secretary of state, but in this case, General Taylor sees eye to eye with both Secretary of State Rusk and Secretary of Defense McNamara on all phases of the problem.

General Taylor, therefore, with his experience on the military side and with a foreknowledge of just how far the United States government will go to achieve its point, is virtually taking command of the whole situation. The President and his cabinet here will be guided largely by what General Taylor reports and advises. The mere fact that a military man has been chosen for this post indicates that a turn has come and that the dilatory process of negotiation has been abandoned in favor of direct action.

THE UNITED STATES has apparently already determined that the risk of war has to be taken if the entire western Pacific is not to be lost to the Red Chinese.

Defense Spending Is Poor Way To Heal Economic Ills

By HOLMES ALEXANDER

WASHINGTON — Almost 10 out of every 100 working Americans draw their wages from tax-supported Defense or Space enterprises.

This is not too much of a payroll in times of military peril, but it would be too much if the peril were diminished or removed.

Those who foresee, or who desire, a drastic disarmament program have envisioned a two-headed hobgoblin in our large manpower investment — about 6.7 million civilians and soldiers — in military preparedness. They see this human stockpile (a) as potential massive unemployment and (b) as an economic excuse for prolonging the war crisis.

ONE OF President Johnson's purposes these days is to cut the hobgoblin down to size. He does not believe that reduction of Defense spending, either for economic or international reasons, need automatically disemploy millions of persons. And he doesn't believe in jazzing up the Cold War in order to give a rosy reading to his economic reports. The Johnson policy was well stated the other day by two Administration spokesmen before the Senate Commerce Committee.

Deputy Defense Secretary Cyrus Vance spoke bluntly to Senators who were worrying about losses of Defense installations in their States. Vance said the Defense Department is not in business "to keep the economy of the country healthy and growing." The Pentagon can and does provide some advice to communities which lose Defense set-ups. It tries to spend its money, where practicable, in areas where jobs and small businesses are lagging. But preparedness must come first; prosperity second.

GARDNER ACKLEY, a member of the Council of Economic Advisers to the White House, went much deeper — and more encouragingly — into the whole matter of our ability to adjust to a cutback in military spending. Since last December Mr. Ackley has been LBJ's chairman of the committee on the Economic Impact of Defense and Disarmament. He is a professional economist who knows his stuff, and doesn't see hobgoblins which aren't there. While his testimony doesn't make saucy reading, it gives good cheer to anybody who is sincerely worried about our national dependence on military spending.

"UNWARRANTED FEARS," said Ackley, have been churned up by "some people who misunderstand and exaggerate" the impact of defense spending and who "underestimate our ability to deal" with the problem. He was taking a whack, as was Secretary Vance, at Senator George McGovern (D., S. D.), who is promoting both unilateral disarmament and an elaborate sword-into-plowshare program.

Ackley said "it is easy to conclude that our present and expanding prosperity depends on Defense expenditures," but he added: "Clearly this is not so." Military technology provides the civilian sector with numerous ideas and gadgets, but this is the most expensive way to obtain them. If the military took less from the taxpayer, the recovered money would buy research at a much lower cost and would be guided into productive investment by consumer demands.

THE ADJUSTMENT of our economy to reduced Defense spending "sounds complicated," said Ackley, but unless we had a crash disarmament, it is "no more complex or challenging" than the annual adjustments we make to ward off unemployment and inflation. He went on:

"Thus, the overall problem created by Defense reduction is a familiar one. Without wishing to appear excessively sanguine, I think it can be said that — in principle — we know how to solve it."

This is a very different testimony on the subject than we get from the amateur alarmists. The fear that we are in the clutches of a Warfare State and one that cannot be dissolved without disaster or continued without plunging into war, does not withstand professional examination.

THE SOLUTIONS are not easy, but not nearly so imposing as some people would have us believe. Those who are trying to ride that hobgoblin should quietly dismount.

How To Keep Well

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

TEEN-AGE ACNE

Acne is normal during adolescence but it need not be the tragedy of youth. When teenagers have pimples and blackheads galore, along with deep abscesses and scars, the condition is abnormal. The cause usually is total neglect, over-treatment, or too much squeezing. These boys and girls have a true disease rather than a passing annoyance.

The deeper the pustules extent into the skin, the greater the chance of developing scars. Heat should be applied so that the pimples can come to a head spontaneously. Deeper abscesses must be lanced, to minimize scarring. Squeezing is taboo.

There are many causes of acne but in general, the oil secreting glands are too active. The result is greasy skin and enlarged pores. Cleanliness is the first rule in eradicating the eruption. Washing the face three times a day removes bacteria, oil, and dead skin. Ordinary soap is used except in the more severe cases which require a detergent soap such as Acne-aid or one containing hexachlorophene, or skin cleansers like Bravisor or Fostex. A medicated pad is available for day time use. Its content of salicylic acid and alcohols is designed to cleanse the skin and keep down excessive oiliness.

The second recommendation is to apply a cosmetically acceptable product that leads to slight peeling of the skin. Creams or cakes containing sulfur are popular and are effective when applied twice a day, especially at night after washing the face. Treatment should not be discontinued when the skin becomes dry; this can be alleviated with a cream such as Nivea.

Pustules are caused by bacterial invasion of the hair follicles. Antibiotics are used occasionally but the results usually are temporary. Vaccines also are available to built up immunity against the causative organisms.

The relationship between diet and acne is a moot question but it is logical to avoid any foods that aggravate the skin lesions. Maintain good health by ample sleep and out of door activities. Sunshine helps to dry the blemishes.

My Answer

By BILLY GRAHAM

QUESTION: You said happiness is based on Christian surrender and faith. Why all the fuss about 'righteousness', can't I be happy without it? J.B.

ANSWER: Not really happy. Actually, happiness is not the chief goal in life — Goodness is. Christ died, not so we could be happy, but that we may be cleansed from sin and right with God. Happiness is a consequence of being at peace with God.

Down deep inside we all know that honesty is better than deceit, that kindness is better than rudeness, and that love is better than hate. When we go against conscience, we go against the grain in our souls. If you ever achieved happiness by going against all that you know to be right, you would be nothing but a gay monster.

In the Christian concept man was made for fellowship with God, and we cannot come into His courts with filthy and untoward motives, and repugnant habits. That is why Christ came — to redeem us, to set our natures right, so we can have peace and fellowship with God.

Goldwater Record On 'Rights'

By FULTON LEWIS

WASHINGTON, "In the area of civil rights . . . his deep feeling about racial equality again and again rises to the surface whenever he touches upon this critical subject."

"He" is Sen. Barry Goldwater and the words are those of Churk Stone, militant Negro editor of the Chicago Defender. As editor of the Washington Afro-American last year, Stone probed Goldwater's record on civil rights, talked with the Senator, then concluded:

"Should Goldwater become President, one thing is certain: colored people will have a sympathetic ear to their demands."

The record bears this out. The Arizona Republic's Edwin McDowell, in his excellent biography of the front-running Senator, notes "few men not deliberately courting minority bloc votes have expressed their sympathy for Negroes — verbally and through action — more often than Goldwater." Examples:

"As a member of the Phoenix City Council, Goldwater worked for the desegregation of eating facilities at the local airport.

"AS CHIEF of staff of the Arizona Air National Guard, Goldwater in the spring of 1952 handed down the order that banned racial segregation in the air guard.

"As a local businessman, in 1951 and 1952, Goldwater contributed $400 to the Phoenix NAACP in an effort to speed desegregation of the Phoenix schools.

"Goldwater was a member of both the Phoenix and Tucson branches of the NAACP, resigning "when they started attacking me politically." He is today a member of the Urban League, a national organization of Negroes and whites whose aim is the economic betterment of American minorities.

Goldwater has come under sharp attack from Negro leaders outside Arizona for his failure to back the 1964 civil rights bill. When Roy Wilkins, executive director of the NAACP attempted to link Goldwater with avowed racists, a leading Arizona Negro, Edwards Banks, set the record straight.

Banks, publisher of the Arizona Tribune, charged that Wilkins had overlooked, "the progress made in the Senator's home state in the field of human relations." Banks's reaction was similar when the baseball star, Jackie Robinson, blasted Goldwater.

IN a letter to the Saturday Evening Post (but never published) Banks acknowledged that Goldwater did not go so far and so fast as many Negroes wish, "but he has a strong, true

Lodge Isn't Belligerent On His Return

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry Cabot Lodge came home from Viet Nam to try to stop Sen. Barry Goldwater but from what he said, or rather refused to say, you might get the impression he wasn't exactly belligerent. But you never can tell.

Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton, who is trying to beat Goldwater for the Republican presidential nomination, started off on a no-name basis, too. It took him a while to get steamed up.

Lodge quit his job as U.S. ambassador to help Scranton's fight, arrived here Monday, made a farewell report to President Johnson at the White House, and then held a news conference.

He said the Republicans must not nominate "an imprudent man, an impulsive man." But he wouldn't criticize Goldwater by name. Asked if he regarded the senator as impulsive, Lodge said "people can draw their own conclusions."

When Scranton announced June 12 he was going to campaign for the nomination, making it a clear stop-Goldwater move, he sent the Arizona a telegram, telling Goldwater how much he respected him, and adding:

"I will say nothing in the weeks ahead to diminish that respect. On the issues, I will be vigorous with all the power at my command. On personalities I will be silent."

But almost at the moment he disclosed this telegram he was calling Goldwater's ideas — without mentioning him by name — a "weird parody" of traditional Republican principles.

He attacked what he referred to as the "shoot from the hip, rather than think from the head foreign policy," again without naming names. As he warmed up he threw out phrases against "radical reactionaries."

Goldwater responded with "I welcome Bill Scranton into the race as one of the outstanding governors of the nation."

Then the senator said that on Dec. 18, 1963 — a couple of weeks before he officially announced his candidacy — he received the following letter from Scranton who is now trying to block him from the nomination:

"I read in the newspapers that you are reappraising your own situation to decide whether to be a candidate for the presidential nomination. I hope you decide to run, and I would like the opportunity, albeit impertinent, to discuss this with you."

Goldwater said they later discussed it. Scranton, asked about this letter after he started running himself, said he had sent a similar letter to two other persons whom he refused to name.

For some days after starting out in pursuit of Goldwater, Scranton didn't mention the senator by name.

But he attacked the "dime store feudalism" of "radicals of the right" and said this is not the time to join "extreme reactionaries who are anything but conservative."

Chamberlain Not Bored With Series

By RICHARD CHAMBERLAIN

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — One hundred down and 34 to go—for this season.

When Raymond Massey and I recently cut a "birthday" cake marking the completion of our 100th show for "Dr. Kildare," that was our main feeling. But the thoughts that went through my mind were many and varied.

I've often been asked if I were not bored with the interminable dialogue with those tongue-twisting medical terms; frustrated with having my leading ladies die in the closing moments.

I've even been misinterpreted when I said I wouldn't do another television series. It looked in print as though I were fed up with "Dr. Kildare," and ready to call it quits at the drop of a suture.

Another series after Kildare? No, because, after Kildare there are many other things I hope to do. But, boredom? No. I'm grateful to say, that hasn't set in. And I don't expect it will. In the first place, who has time to become bored? Not with 33 or 34 television shows a year, roughly the equivalent of 20 full-length motion pictures.

There is no substitute for experience, and that I'm certainly getting — and I'm still learning from Kildare.

One scarcely could work with Raymond Massey and not learn daily something about his craft. Nor with such guest stars as Cyril Ritchard, Walter Pidgeon or Douglas Fairbanks Jr.

There are plans for the season ahead that help alleviate any tendency toward boredom. This year for instance, we'll do our first three-part story, with an Italian background when Dr. Gillespie takes Kildare with him to Rome.

Several of our stories will deal with controversial subjects both in medicine and in human relations.

That is an indication of how Kildare has matured since he began as a green, new intern three years ago.

provision of the 1950 Internal Security Act banning the issuance of passports to members of organizations required to register as Communist groups.

'Integrate Now' Move Headed For Defeat At NEA Convention

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — A resolution which says in effect "integrate now" to the all-white teacher associations in 11 Southern states has cleared its first hurdle at the convention of the National Education Association.

The paper-thin margin of victory, however, makes ultimate defeat virtually certain.

The resolution, which gave the Southern affiliates a deadline of July 1, 1966, to get integration well under way or face expulsion from NEA, was adopted by the NEA's Department of Classroom Teachers, 1,004 to 985.

"With a vote that close we don't stand a chance when it comes before the full NEA later this week," said one backer of the resolution, who requested anonymity. "But we'll keep trying."

Pat L. Tormillo of Miami, Fla., another backer, said he was pleased with the final vote. "But the battle is far from won. No doubt pressure will be brought on delegates to change their votes in the NEA Representative Assembly."

The NEA leadership is against any "integrate or get out" measure for fear pressures in the South would force many of the state associations to leave the NEA. It favors desegregation of state and local affiliates, but wants the job done gradually.

Tormillo said he was particularly disappointed at the vote of many Northern and central states.

Indiana voted with the South and against the resolution, 50-7. Missouri 32-10, Nebraska 23-10, New York 29-15, Wisconsin 16-0, and South Dakota 13-0.

The three West Coast states of California, Oregon and Washington, plus Michigan, Pennsylvania, and Ohio tipped the scales for the narrow victory.

The Department of Classroom Teachers has 820,000 members, 92 per cent of the NEA total membership.

Opponents of the resolution said nothing could be gained by setting a deadline and forcing the segregated affiliates to meet it.

Peter Goudis of the Nassau Suffolk Classroom Teachers Association, Long Island, New York, noted that the resolution did not demand full integration within the two years.

"It says only that racial restrictions must have been removed and the process of integration must be underway."

LEASES FREIGHT CARS

NEW YORK (UPI) — Hudson Leasing Corp. has leased 358 railway freight cars which are being used on railroads, the company said Monday. The cars include 331 steel box cars and 27 gondolas, all valued at about $2 million.

OUACHITA PARISH

Food, Cars Top Local Spending

NEW YORK, (Special) — Residents of Ouachita Parish devoted a major part of the money they spent in retail stores in the past year to purchases of food and cars, a tabulation shows.

Such purchases accounted for 42 percent of all retail business locally.

The figures for the year show that the changing times are producing corresponding shifts in the way people are spending their money. As incomes rise, a smaller proportion of the available cash is needed for basic living costs, so that more of it may be spent for luxury items.

The facts are brought out in the annual marketing study made by the Standard Rate and Data Service to determine how the consumer, locally and in other parts of the country, is distributing his retail dollar.

FOOD SPENDING

In Ouachita Parish, the report shows, food purchases in bakeries, butcher shops, delicatessens and in other local food emporia reached $25,594,000.

This sum, which represented 19 percent of all retail business locally, was solely for food bought for home consumption.

gration must have begun by that time," Goudis said.

"We are giving the affiliates two full years to get going. Certainly, two years is enough."

The resolution was proposed by 23 delegates from nine states.

The 11 states with segregated state and local associations are Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North and South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, and Virginia.

Washington Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington: LBJ'S TRAVELS: After two busy months of traveling and speechmaking, President Johnson is expected to spend most of July at the White House.

There are no travel plans on his announced schedule for the month, and aides said only two or three out-of-town engagements are being discussed. The President may make a brief trip to his Texas ranch for the July 4 weekend.

One factor that may be influencing the President's travel plans is the Republican National Convention, which opens in San Francisco July 13 and will likely dominate the news for at least one week. Associates say it is only a coincidence that Johnson has no speaking dates during this period.

DEBT: President Johnson's signature has put the temporary national debt limit at $324 billion—until a year from today.

If Johnson had not signed the bill Monday, the limit would have dropped automatically to the old temporary limit of $309 billion today and to its permanent limit of $285 billion at midnight tonight.

The actual federal debt now stands at $312 billion.

PAY ROLL: Total federal employment dropped 3,555 in May compared with April, a Senate-House committee reported today.

The total number of civilian employees was listed as 2,476,791 in May by the Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Federal Expenditures. The biggest cuts were in the civilian pay roll of the Defense Department.

PASSPORTS: Sen. Karl Mundt, R-S.D., said today he is preparing new legislation to prevent Communists from obtaining passports.

He deplored a recent Supreme Court decision striking down a

Poor Speller Brings Police To Houston Hotel

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI)—A man about to register in the Hotel America Monday night asked the clerk, "How do you spell Baton Rouge, La.?"

The clerk, suspicious at someone's being unable to spell his supposed hometown, called police.

Officers questioned the man, who had registered under the name of a doctor, and he admitted forging some checks and taking credit cards. He had identification papers for three different doctors.

The one he used to register at the hotel was a name he misspelled on the registration slip, police said.

Police held the man on suspicion of forgery and theft and were checking officers in Louisiana and Alabama to see if he was wanted there.

Solons Seek Funds For Post Office

WASHINGTON (AP)—Louisianians asked a Senate Appropriations subcommittee today to approve funds to acquire a site for a new post office and federal office building in Shreveport, La.

Money also was sought to start planning. Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., and Rep. Joe D. Waggoner, D-La., testified before a subcommittee, headed by Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash.

Before the subcommittee is a House-passed independent office appropriation bill which includes no general services administration funds for the purchase of sites and the planning of new facilities in the fiscal year starting Wednesday.

Long told the group that Shreveport has a post office which is more than 50 years old and which is inadequate to serve the needs of a city that now has a population of more than 180,000.

Unless the subcommittee provides the money, he said, "Shreveport will have to wait another year."

Waggoner said GSA has made a study of what might be built at Shreveport as a result of a resolution adopted by the Senate Public Works subcommittee.

Mrs. Atkinson

Final rites for Mrs. Frances Kirk Atkinson, 65, wife of the former Monroe Commissioner of Streets and Parks Will Atkinson, were to be held at 2 p.m. today in the chapel of Mulhearn Funeral Home with the Rev. J. T. Horton, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Monroe, officiating.

Burial was to be in the River-view cemetery under the direction of Mulhearn's Funeral Home.

Mrs. Atkinson died Monday afternoon at the family home at 103 Johnston St., Monroe, following a long illness.

A native of Cape Girardeau, Mo., Mrs. Atkinson had lived in Monroe for the past 24 years. She is survived by her husband; a step-son, John Atkinson, both of Monroe, and four grandchildren.

Private School Program Prompts War Of Nerves

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The Mississippi House and Senate today staged a war of nerves over whose private school program should become law.

The Senate voted 13-33 Monday against changing its decision to limit state aid to private pupils to those in nonsectarian schools. The House voted earlier against limiting aid to those in nonsectarian schools.

As it stood today, the House had a Senate-passed bill with the restriction and the Senate had a House-passed bill without such a limitation.

The House bill provides up to $185 per year in state aid to private school pupils to apply on their tuition. The Senate, besides restricting aid to those not in church-related private schools, cut the state money to $165 per year and required it be matched by $35 in local money to be available.

The Senate Finance Committee has the House-passed companion bill permitting local governments to levy four mills in property taxes to raise the money to augment the state grant. Sen. Ellis Bodron of Vicksburg, chairman of the committee, said his group wanted to see how much four mills would produce in each county before acting on the House bill.

Compromise Forged On 'Ladies Levies'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A House-Senate conference committee Monday worked out a compromise $1.9 billion excise tax bill which continues the so-called "ladies levies."

The committee had been appointed to iron out differences between House and Senate versions of the bill. Both chambers still must approve the committee's compromise draft.

The Senate had amended the legislation to repeal a 10 percent tax on jewelry, cosmetics, furs and handbags. However, the conference group restored the taxes, which were part of the House bill.

President Johnson had urged against reducing any excise tax revenues at this time. He said further cuts should await a pending study by the House Ways & Means Committee.

The legislation extends for one year excise taxes which were enacted during the Korean War. These are levied against alcohol, tobacco, passenger autos and parts, telephone service and air travel.

The administration claimed the Treasury could not stand the $507 million loss of revenue that would result from the cuts.

It also argued that a current House study might reveal more justification for cutting other excise taxes.

Princess Weds Londoner In Ancient Church

BORGHOLM, Island of Oeland, Sweden (UPI)—Princess Margaretha, granddaughter of King Gustaf VI Adolf of Sweden, today married London businessman John K. Ambler in a tiny 11th century church.

Only 200 guests, among them Scandinavian royalty and a California "queen for a day," were able to squeeze into the Lutheran Church of Gaardsloesa for the ceremony.

The princess, 29, walked up the aisle on the arm of her grandfather, the 81-year-old king.

She wore a simple white faille gown she designed herself and a golden diadem. Her bouquet was made of the same wild flowers used by her grandmother - born mother, Princess Sibylla, and three sisters to decorate the church.

None of 40-year-old Ambler's relatives were among the 30 English guests.

From the United States came Mrs. June Merrifield of Torrance, Calif., who won a trip to Sweden and an invitation to the wedding on the television program, "Queen For a Day."

The archbishop of Sweden, Dr. Gunnar Hultgren, conducted the simple 40-minute private ceremony in the country church in both English and Swedish.

Princess Margaretha met Ambler, an executive in a London transport company, during one of her frequent stays in England.

Messages, Improved Situation In Viet Nam Brought Lodge Home

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry how do you expect to resolve this difference? Then things in Viet Nam started to go better and I felt my duty was to be here.

A. I have not said it should not be an issue. I have said I don't see how it could be. I don't see how it gets votes — how you can make it a good issue.

He adds:

"If you have a disaster in foreign relations then that becomes an issue whether the politicians make it one or not. Happily I see no prospect of any disaster."

Lodge, who resigned after 10 months as ambassador to South Viet Nam, returned Monday to help Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton in his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

President Johnson met with the retiring ambassador at the White House, then went before newsmen with Lodge at his side to express public thanks for his services in Saigon.

In replying to questions submitted to him by Wes Gallagher, general manager of The Associated Press, Lodge said "things in Viet Nam started to go better and I felt it was my duty to be here" to help Scranton.

The questions had been asked of Lodge in Saigon, but he said he preferred to defer his replies until his resignation became effective Monday.

The questions and Lodge's replies:

Q. Governor Scranton disagrees with you that the war in South Viet Nam should not be an issue in the campaign. Now that you are supporting him,

Beach Raiders In Augustine Claim Victory

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — They got into the water on the white beach and later they marched completely around the old slave market—and the Negroes of St. Augustine felt they won a victory.

It was neither that they had gotten wet nor that they had walked unharmed. Their victory was simply that they had received police protection for their demonstrations.

This time dogs snarled at jeering white people, not at Negroes, and Monday night back at Trinity Methodist church the demonstrators were jubilant.

They sang and clapped. Young Negroes marched in a snaking line around the church. Old women sat in the pews and kept time with paper fans. Hosea Williams, who led the march, led the triumphant singing.

They sang, "We Love Everybody," and chorus after chorus of, "Before I'll be a slave I'll be buried in my grave and go home to my Lord and be free."

A quarter of a mile away, white segregationists still lingered on the grass of the centuries-old plaza that earlier had echoed to jeers and epithets as the Negroes and their helmeted guard of state troopers marched around.

The segregationists were silent now and talked mostly of what a shame it had been that the troopers had protected the Negroes.

The Negroes had marched two-by-two behind troopers who had billy sticks strapped to their wrists.

Down the south side of the square they marched, then they turned and walked the short stretch on the west side, then up the north side past the old cathedral, and down the east side where Thursday night segregationists had broken through a far thinner police line and a brawl resulted.

There was no brawl Monday night. Young white men and boys, many dressed in denim pants, work shoes and shirts with the fronts open, dashed from one corner of the plaza to another, following the line of march and shouting.

There were a number of women with them and also some children.

At last the encirclement of the plaza ended and the line of demonstrators wound silently toward the Negro section.

Elector Action Is Scheduled For Wednesday

BATON ROUGE (AP) — A free elector leader prepared for House action Wednesday on the first of two key bills after a judge set July 24 for a trial to decide constitutionality of how presidential electors are named.

Rep. Percy Branton, Webster, said he would call a floor vote on his bill proposing Sept. 19 as date for the congressional second primary.

Branton and Rep. John Garrett, Claiborne, also are backing another bill to write into law recent action of the Democratic State Central Committee in naming two slates for the Nov. 3 presidential ballot.

One would be dedicated to the national party nominee, the other would be an unpledged slate for Alabama Gov. George Wallace.

After Dist. Judge Fred Blanch set the trial date, Branton sponsored a House resolution alerting the legislature to the threat contained in the taxpayers' suit that could knock out present law on electors.

The suit contends the legislature has improperly delegated its authority to the Central Committee on the method of selecting electors.

As the legislature ends July 9, Branton said an adverse court ruling could mean a special session to write new elector laws unless it acted now.

The suit challenged the Democratic committee action to put two slates of electors on the ballot.

The plaintiffs named secretary of State Wade O. Martin and C. H. (Sammy) Downs, chairman of the Democratic committee as defendants.

The judge dismissed the suit against Martin. He said the plaintiffs sought to enjoin Martin from placing names of presidential electors on the ballot.

The judge ruled this motion premature because Martin has not received certified names from the state central committee for electors.

Henry Fuller, first assistant attorney general, told the court if the acts were ruled unconstitutional no electors from any party could be placed on the ballot.

Wedemeyer May Become Wallace Running Mate

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — The Montgomery Advertiser said today retired Maj. Gen. Albert Wedemeyer could become Gov. George Wallace's vice presidential running mate.

He said he might accept such an offer if Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater fails to win the Republican presidential nomination.

"I am working my heart out for Goldwater... and will continue to do so right up to the wire... I feel he is the best qualified man to be president of the United States," the newspaper quoted him as saying. "I am complimented by this, but I am dedicated to Goldwater."

Asked if he would become a vice presidential contender on the Wallace ticket if Goldwater fails to get the GOP nod, Wedemeyer told The Advertiser: "That will be a whole new show... We'll have to talk about it then."

Wallace visited the general Sunday at his home near Washington.

As commander of the China Theater of operations in a critical period during World War II, Wedemeyer smoothed out many difficulties between the Chinese and Americans.

He was chief of staff to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek and was a major general at 48.

He also distinguished himself in other areas, helping to plan the Normandy invasion and Allied strategy in the Mediterranean.

Soviet Premier, Norwegians Talk Of Trade Pact

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev and Norwegian Premier Einar Gerhardsen held talks today aimed primarily at a new Soviet-Norwegian trade agreement.

Authoritative sources said Gerhardsen and Khrushchev hoped to lay the groundwork for a three-year agreement expected to be negotiated in final form in the fall. The present trade pact expires at the end of this year.

Political matters under discussion reportedly were of a general nature — the present state of world affairs — with emphasis on disarmament.

There was no cheering as Khrushchev's 19-car motorcade drove to the conference. Groups of curious Norwegians stood on street corners all the way in from the royal estate, five miles from the center of the city.

Khrushchev appeared in good spirits as Gerhardsen showed him the view of the city from his 15th-floor office.

Health Service Will Act Quickly On River Pollution

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government official says the Public Health Service intends to move with dispatch to control known sources of pollution of the Mississippi River by endrin.

Murray Stein, chief enforcement officer of the division of water supply and pollution control of the agency, said in testimony to a Senate government operations - subcommittee that his ultimate objective is to keep out of the river "every drop" of endrin.

Stein repeated to the committee, headed by Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., conclusions reached recently at a New Orleans conference of federal and state officials.

One conclusion was that endrin was responsible for heavy fish kills in the Mississippi and Atchafalaya rivers. Another was that industrial wastes and drainage from contaminated areas in and near Memphis, Tenn., are sources of endrin found in the Mississippi River.

Fuel Source Bill Approved

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Administration muscle Monday helped pass two House bills which would let industry they'll have clear sailing in making direct deals with natural gas pipelines to buy longtime sources of the fuel.

A legislative act won 79-23 House passage a companion constitutional proposal received a vote of 81-23. Both went to the Senate.

Rep. Lantz Womack, Franklin Parish, a McKeithen floor leader, joined Rep. Kenneth Barranger, Orleans Parish, the original sponsor, in obtaining House approval.

The bill would make clear such direct contracts between industries and pipelines would not come under Louisiana Public Service Commission jurisdiction. Commission officials said, however, such contracts at present are not under commission jurisdiction.

What stirred up the legislative proposal was a proceeding filed in the Public Service Commission by a gas distribution firm against a pipeline coming into St. Bernard Parish with a rival bid for a sugar refinery contract.

Barranger said the two bills went beyond the dispute, although he represented one of the firms involved. He recused himself from voting on the first bill.

CAUSES CONFUSION

Red China Talk Subdued Inside Administration

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — There is less Red China war talk inside the administration than there is outside.
This is causing a certain public confusion because the warnings of possible major conflict in the Far East are not supported by information on when, where and under what circumstances the conflict might begin.
There is a greater danger that home-front misunderstanding, however, because the Communist leaders in China and North Viet Nam may themselves misread the warnings which President Johnson and his associates are trying to send them. For them particularly, the central question is whether they believe what they are being told.
The administration is dealing with a fine line between bluntness and bluster in its efforts to get its message through to the Red Chinese leaders whose actions in the months ahead could very well bring on the war.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Mary Ingraham Bunting was sworn in as the first woman member of the Atomic Energy Commission Monday. She has been president of Radcliffe College, Cambridge, Mass., since 1960 and has specialized in microbiology and biochemistry.

Publication Of Oswald Dairy Irks Commission

WASHINGTON (AP) — Disturbed by publication of a major item of evidence in its investigation of President John F. Kennedy's assassination, the Warren Commission has asked a full FBI investigation of how parts of Lee Harvey Oswald's diary got into print.
It wants to find out how the diary of the sharpshooter accused of assassinating Kennedy in Dallas last November "was obtained and whom it was obtained from" before it was quoted over the weekend in copyright stories in the Dallas Morning News.
The probe was announced Monday night by J. Lee Rankin, chief counsel of the presidential commission headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren. Rankin hinted strongly that the commission suspects the journal of Oswald's two years in the Soviet Union got into print through the Dallas police department.
Rankin also told reporters that the commission's report—which the investigators had hoped to have ready for President Johnson by today—would not be issued until after July 18 at the earliest.
Following Rankin's announcement of the probe, Jack B. Kreuger, managing editor of the Dallas Morning News, said:
"The Warren Commission has every right to make this request of the FBI. The FBI has a right to ask us what it will, under the proper conditions."
"There are other rights involved. The American people have a right to know, particularly any facet of an assassination of a president of the United States. The American press, large and small, has an obligation to tell them. This obligation and right is enunciated in the First Amendment to the Constitution."
"The Dallas News is going to report every piece of important piece of news to its readers to the limit of its ability."
The stories in the News contained quotations from the Oswald diary which expressed the wrath of the Marxist ex-Marine at having been denied Soviet citizenship. Rankin said the commission was seriously concerned over the breach of secrecy on materials under its control, partly because of fear that a piecemeal disclosure of the evidence might be misleading to the public.
An investigation was demanded by lawyer William A. McKenzie, speaking in behalf of Oswald's widow, Marina Oswald. McKenzie said he was assured by Rankin that the commission did not release the material.

Actress Given Suspended Fine For Speeding

PIKEVILLE, Md. (AP) — Actress Gloria De Haven was given a suspended $10 fine Monday for speeding to a Saturday night show for which she was late.
"I just couldn't keep 2,000 people waiting," she told a magistrate.
The 38-year-old actress is playing in "The Sound of Music" at the Painters Mill Music Fair, a summer theater just outside Baltimore.
A state policeman said he stopped her not far from the theater. "She was passing everything in sight," he testified.
Once stopped, he said, Miss De Haven didn't stay that way. "She took off again," the trooper said, and sought sanctuary at Painters Mill.
Urges Slow Down
WASHINGTON (UPI) — A noted heart specialist wants President Johnson to ease up on his campaign appearances.
Dr. Irving S. Wright of New York Monday asked the First Lady if she would urge the President to reduce his heavy speaking engagements. However, Mrs. Johnson said that she was "mindful" of the President's health and felt that he was taking better care of himself than ever before.

deal is offered and one that promotes "peace." The heart of his argument is that the world is a safer place to live in than it was a few years ago.
In Southeast Asia, however, there is no peace and in fact the Chinese faction of the Communist movement is on the march. Pathet Lao forces, backed by Chinese - supported troops from North Viet Nam, are fighting the forces of the neutralist government of Laos, which the Russians and the Red Chinese once pledged to support.
In South Viet Nam, Red guerrillas trained, armed and directed from North Viet Nam are struggling to take over the anti-Communist south where defense forces are trained, armed and supported by the United States.
The problem which the President and Secretary of State Dean Rusk have been wrestling with is how to handle these wars and forestall the larger conflicts which might spring from them while building up the "peace" argument in domestic politics without letting the Red leaders get the idea that the United States has gone soft.

Moviemaker Anxious-Star Back In Hospital

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A moviemaker worried today for fear of losing both his costars — Bette Davis and Joan Crawford — and $50,000 a day.
Miss Crawford was back in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital with a respiratory ailment that had confined her there for two weeks. Stay indefinite, doctors said.
Miss Davis has been ordered by Superior Court to take time off to finish another film.
Robert Aldrich, producer of the Crawford-Davis film, "Hush, Hush, Sweet Charlotte," says if Miss Crawford doesn't return by noon Wednesday, production will have to halt. Loss per day: $50,000, he said.
Miss Crawford was released from the hospital Friday and readmitted Sunday. Doctors said her condition was satisfactory.
An attorney for Miss Davis asked the District Court of Appeal Monday to set aside an injunction granted in Superior Court prohibiting the actress from performing elsewhere until she completes a 90-second mad scene for her last movie, Paramount's "Where Love Has Gone."
The injunction is not placed in effect pending outcome of Miss Davis' Appeal.

Fatal Explosion Came From Bomb At Door

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police say the blast which maimed and fatally wounded a young housewife came from a bomb planted at her back door.
Crime laboratory experts discovered Monday that when Sandra De La Pena, 22, unlocked a screen door Sunday morning, it set off a bomb which blew off her hands and one foot. She died 90 minutes later.
Mrs. De La Pena had just placed a warm bottle in the crib of her year-old son and was opening the door for her husband, Albert, 25, a fireman, who was due home from work soon, police said. The baby and an older child escaped injury.

Giants, Phils Fall Victims Of Mets, 45's

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Staff Writer

The flame in Elroy Face's fork ball appears to be flickering. As a result, he's not putting out fires the way he once did.

Face, not long ago one of the top relief pitchers in the majors, was rocked again Monday night in Pittsburgh's 7-6 loss to the ninth-place Los Angeles Dodgers.

The 36-year-old Pirate right-hander entered the game in the seventh inning just after a four-run rally had tied the Dodgers 3-5. He retired the first batter, but before retiring the side, he walked three batters and gave up two singles, allowing the Dodgers to score two runs, which they needed for the victory.

For his brief appearance, Face suffered his third loss in five decisions and had his earned run average soar to 5.23 for 22 games.

Face's showing followed a painful pattern that has developed for the man who won 17 straight games in relief in 1959 and who has averaged 61 appearances a season for the past eight years.

He was called upon June 21 to keep the Pirates close in a game Chicago led 2-0. However, the Cubs lashed him for two runs and three hits in two-thirds of an inning.

On June 12 he replaced starter Bob Veale in the sixth inning after the Cubs had scored two runs and had two more runners on base with two out. Face put another on before Joe Amalfitano belted a grand slam homer.

Manager Danny Murtagh says Face is one of the greatest relief pitchers of all time. For Face, though, time could be running out.

In other National League games Monday, New York edged San Francisco 4-3, Houston trounced Philadelphia 6-1, Milwaukee downed St. Louis, 7-4 and Cincinnati whipped Chicago 6-1.

In the American League, Baltimore defeated Minnesota 6-3, Chicago knocked off Cleveland 5-1 in 10 innings, Boston nipped Kansas City 4-3 and Washington beat Detroit 5-3.

Frank Howard drove in three runs for the Dodgers, including the winning one with his second sacrifice fly. He also homered.

The Pirates, down 5-1, had rallied for a tie in two errors by third baseman Derrell Griffith, two wild pitches by Bob Miller, a walk and singles by Donn Clendenon, Bill Mazeroski, Bob Bailey and Manny Mota.

Jesse Gonder's two-run homer in the ninth off Bob Linn lifted the Mets to their fifth victory in 10 games with the league-leading Giants. The blow followed a one-out walk to Larry Elliot. Jim Hart belted four hits, including a fourth-inning homer, for the Giants.

Bob Aspromonte's hitting and Bob Bruce's pitching led Houston over Philadelphia. Aspromonte climaxed a five-run first inning with his second grand slam homer of the season.

Braves allowed seven hits, two after the fourth inning, and didn't walk anyone in winning his eighth game against five consecutive batters at one stretch.

Ed Mathews walked in his first four appearances, then homered in the ninth inning, tying the Cardinals 4-4.

The Braves went on to score three more runs in the inning. Gene Oliver singled home Denis Menke with the deciding run. Mathews scored two earlier runs on singles by Lee Maye.

The Reds whipped the Cubs behind the hitting of Steve Boros and Leo Cardenas. Boros drove home two runs with a triple in the second inning while Cardenas doubled home three runs in the third. Dick Bertell homered off Jim O'Toole, who recorded his seventh triumph in 11 decisions.

Giles, Church Are Seeded First For Jaycee Net Meet

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—Upton Giles of Covington and Mary Church of Baton Rouge are top-seeded in 18-and-under division of the Louisiana Junior Chamber of Commerce Tennis tournament opening here today.

In the only other two divisions, Bruce Barlett of New Orleans and Bonnie Miller of Jennings are the top seeds in the 16-and-under matches.

Winners and runnersup in the three-day affair qualify for the national Jaycee championship starting Aug. 2 at Minneapolis.

Lema Enters

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—Tony Lema, who won the Cleveland Open last weekend, will compete in the British Open early next month according to Mark McCormack, his business manager.

McCormack also said that Gary Player, Jack Nicklaus, Bob Charles and Dick Sanders would make the trip to Britain

Pressure Building Up For McKinley

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Things aren't getting any easier for Chuck McKinley in defense of his Wimbledon tennis championship. They just seem that way.

After all, he has yet to face veteran Australian international Fred Stolle and either top-seeded Roy Emerson or German upset-maker Wilhelm Bungert.

But they're all right-handed. And brash, bounding Chuck has had his troubles with the lefties.

The San Antonio, Tex., star moved into Wednesday's semifinals with a struggling 6-3, 6-3, 4-6, 6-4 decision over unseeded Abe Segal of South Africa Monday.

So far the 23-year-old Texan has lost five sets. All but one have been to lefties. Last year he didn't lose a one en route to the title.

The Wednesday semis have McKinley against Stolle and Emerson, the top-heavy favorite to win it all, playing Bungert. Each is a rematch. Bungert upped Emerson in the quarterfinals last year, then lost to McKinley in the semis. Chuck took the title with a victory over Stolle.

Bungert, possibly Germany's best since World War II, pulled another major surprise Monday, whipping Rafael Osuna, the Mexican-born U.S. national champion in straight sets, 6-4, 6-2, 6-3.

"I knew Bungert was an excellent player," Osuna said. "But I didn't think he could keep up the pressure that long."

The tall German, however, figures to have his hands full with Emerson.

"I beat Emerson last year even though I didn't expect to," he recalled. "Now people are remembering that and expect me to beat him again. That makes it much more difficult."

Emerson advanced with a matter of fact 6-1, 6-4, 6-4 triumph over fellow Australian Bob Hewitt, while Stolle eliminated Christian Kuhnke of Germany 6-3, 7-5, 6-3.

Billie Jean Moffitt of Long Beach, Calif., and Nancy Richey of Dallas, the last remaining American girls, were scheduled to play Mrs. Ann Haydon Jones of England and Lesley Turner of Australia in today's women's quarterfinals.

Area sportsmen attending tonight's meeting of the Ouachita Parish Wildlife Unit will hear Joe Herring, chief of the fish and game division of the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission, and two area biologists, J. H. Haygood and J. A. Farrar, report on plans for improving waterfowl hunting in northeast Louisiana.

The Ouachita unit will also distribute prizes worth $2,600 to winners of the recent fishing rodeo conducted at Black Bayou Lakes.

J. B. Thoman, unit president, said Herring will report specifically on plans to flood a section of the Russell Sage Game Management area to help the winter duck situation.

Reports will also be made on the trend of the will life commission's recent forum at Alexandria concerning proposed game regulations for next fall and winter.

The spokesman said the school administration was taken by surprise by last week's signing of catcher Wilbur Hammond and outfielder Johnny Jeter by the Pirates.

Both are regarded as top league prospects.

Hammond and Jeter were chosen to the all-star team at the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics tournament. They both hit over 300 for the Tigers.

The spokesman said the school had enjoyed good relations with professional teams and scouts for years. He said this was the first time a baseball team "had acted in bad faith."

HOGAN 'GREATEST'

Only Open Failure Keeping Snead From Top Distinction

By OSCAR FRALEY
NEW YORK (UPI)—Ask who is the greatest golf pro of all time and it looks from this corner today as if you have to go with the "Wee Wee Man."

That would be Bantam Ben Hogan as he was tagged by the Scots when he went over and won the British Open in his only crack at Britain's best. And, at 52, from tee to green he still has to stand as a great.

Of course, it's all a matter of opinion.

Just hauling off the naming Hogan you have to be ignoring a bunch of greats such as Sam Snead, Byron Nelson, Walter Hagen, Gene Sarazen, and even at this stage of his career, Arnold Palmer.

But for one-two-three on an all-time basis I'd have to make it Hogan, Snead and Palmer.

Flip the pages of the record book and you get the peg on Bantam Ben. The poker-faced phenom from Dublin—Texas, that is—won four U.S. Open championships, two PGA's, two Masters and the British. His record of 274 still stands in the Open. And this year in the Masters he warmed up those old bones long enough to post a 67.

Snead still swings a mean stick at 52, as he proved in winning the PGA Seniors championship last winter. If he ever had won the Open, in which he finished second four times, he'd rank at the top. But you can't take away those other credentials which include 114 tournament triumphs over a 25-year span, three Masters, three PGA's and the British Open.

Ask a couple of years from now and the answer might unequivocally be Palmer, unless ever-increasing talent and a young man named Jack Nicklaus chops him down. Palmer's record at 34, and after only nine years on the tour, is fantastic. He has won more than 40 tournaments, is the only man to have won the Masters four times and also has taken the U.S. and British Opens. All this against exploding opposition.

Lesser fields is what legislates against Hagen, Sarazen and Nelson. They were great winners, Hagen taking five PGA titles, four British and two U.S. Opens. Sarazen, too, won them all in the long ago, while Nelson posted his enviable record during the war years. Still, even against elderly croquet players, you can't knock 19 tournament wins in a row and 113 straight finishes in the money.

If there was one thing which made it for Hogan it was his implacable desire as well as his record. He went against crack fields but always it was the "Wee Wee Man" they had to beat. And he scored his greatest triumphs after almost losing his life in an auto accident.

Palmer needs only one or two more of his fabulous years to sprint so close to the top of them all that whoever is racing him for all-time honors had better board a jet. He just may do it if he finally takes the PGA at Columbus, Ohio, July 16-19 when the winner of this current all-time best poll receives a special trophy from the television sponsor.

Personally, I think Hogan should pack his bag now. And, if you don't agree, all I can say is, I'm entitled.

AMERICAN ACES

4 'Rookie' Stars Chosen By Lopez

BOSTON (UPI)—Four "rookie" All-Stars were named to the youthful American League squad today by Manager Al Lopez, who followed the player selections in choosing his supporting cast for the July 7 All-Star game at Shea Stadium in New York.

Catcher Bill Freehan and second baseman Jerry Lumpe of Detroit and outfielders Chuck Hinton of the Washington Senators and Jimmie Hall of the Minnesota Twins were chosen for reserve roles today, marking their first selection to the elite team.

Completing the reserve list were first baseman Norm Siebern and shortstop Luis Aparicio of the league-leading Baltimore Orioles, third baseman Frank Malzone of Boston and Al Kaline of Detroit.

Joe Pepitone, New York Yankees first baseman, was selected by Lopez as a utility player who can also play the outfield.

For Kaline—one of three Detroit Tigers on the reserve roster—it will be his 10th All-Star game, making him the most experienced reserve.

Lopez, the Chicago White Sox pilot, is substituting for Ralph Houk of the Yankees as the All-Skipper. Houk was promoted from field manager to general manager after last season.

Lopez refused to name a single member of his own third-place White Sox to the team, making Chicago one of the three teams who do not have a representative on the squad.

However, Lopez is expected to name more than one member of his own pitching staff to the squad Wednesday night along with pitchers from Cleveland and Kansas City, the other teams not yet represented.

Each of the 10 teams must have a representative on the All-Star team.

American League starters picked previously in voting by the players were catcher Elston Howard of New York, first baseman Bob Allison of Minnesota, second baseman Bobby Richardson of New York, shortstop Jim Fregosi of Los Angeles, third baseman Brooks Robinson of Baltimore, and outfielders Harmon Killebrew of Minnesota, Mickey Mantle of New York and rookie Tony Oliva of Minnesota.

Anaheim, Angels Nearer Contract On New Stadium

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP)—Signing of a contract for the Los Angeles Angels to play in Anaheim is expected within two weeks, a city official says.

City Atty. Joe Geisler said Angel management and Anaheim authorities discussed the contract Monday and that terms were "pretty well crystallized."

The 50,000-seat stadium is expected to be completed in time for the 1966 season and will cost the city $16 million.

Geisler said the proposed 35-year contract would give the Angels 66 2/3 per cent of concession income and 50 per cent of parking. The city would get 7.5 per cent of the admissions on attendance up to 2 million a year and 10 per cent over that.

One one point remains to be settled, Geisler said.

The Angels want a straight lease on the stadium, while Anaheim wants a contract requiring the Angels to exhibit there.

RADATZ ROCKS A's

Boston's 'Monster' Rescues Red Sox 3rd Time In 2 Days

By JOE GERGEN
UPI Sports Writer

There's no relief in sight for the rest of the American League from the monster that stalks the Boston bullpen.

The sight of tireless Dick Radatz walking to the mound has become as familiar to Bostonians as Fenway Park itself—only much more assuring.

Radatz appeared for the third time in two days Monday night and with the usual result, another Red Sox victory. The huge righthander mowed down the Kansas City Athletics for 2 1-3 innings to preserve a 4-3 decision and collect his 13th save of the year.

The monster, who worked scoreless relief stints in both ends of Sunday's doubleheader sweep by the Red Sox, now has appeared in five of the last six Boston games and 40 games this season. At this pace, Radatz is a cinch to shatter the major league record for appearances in one season of 75 by William White of Cincinnati back in 1879.

There is no doubt that without Radatz the Red Sox would be far below their current fifth-place station. Radatz, who boasts a 6-3 record, has either won or saved more than half of the Sox' 36 victories. In the month of June alone, he has appeared in 16 games.

Monday night was a typical Radatz performance. He entered the game in the seventh inning with two men out, the bases loaded and Boston's lead reduced from four runs to one. He quickly extinguished the rally by getting pinchhitter Doc Edwards on a fly ball, then set down the A's on two hits for the rest of the game.

Beneficiary of Radatz' performance was Earl Wilson, who gained credit for his eighth victory. Slender Ed Bressoud was the Boston slugging star with a double, triple and two runs-batted-in.

Baltimore ran its win streak to seven and increased its league lead to 4½ games over the idle Yankees by whipping the Twins 6-3; the White Sox blitzed the Indians 5-1 with a 10th-inning surge and the Senators stopped the Tigers 5-3 in the only other games.

Meanwhile in the National League, Houston whipped the Phillies, 6-1; the Braves battered the Cardinals, 7-4; the Reds drubbed the Cubs, 6-1; the Mets rallied to nip the Giants 4-3; and the Dodgers outslug the Pirates 7-6.

Robinson limited the Twins to seven hits, including three homers, in the Orioles' victory. Norm Siebern drove in three of Baltimore's runs with a two-run homer and an infield out in the seven-hit Oriole attack which was aided and abetted by some sloppy Minnesota fielding. Tony Oliva hit his 15th and 16th homers for the Twins, and major league leader Harmon Killebrew slugged his 28th.

Hoyt Wilhelm, who has pitched in and won more games than any other relief pitcher in baseball history, gained his first win of the year in six decisions. Chicago tied the game at 1-1 in the ninth, then pushed across four runs in the 10th. Don McMahon suffered his first setback of the year, also in relief.

Washington snapped a six-game losing streak and also a personal jinx by beating Detroit's Phil Regan. Regan had defeated the Senators six consecutive times dating back to June 10, 1962, but Ed Brinkman drove home the winning run against him with a sacrifice fly in the sixth inning. Claude Osteen scattered eight Tiger safeties to gain his sixth victory against four defeats.

Dickenhorst Tied Twice, But Finally Wins Skeet Event

Dr. R. W. Dickenhorst beat out Kent Anderson in overtime shooting to win the Trophy Shoot in the skeet division of Sunday activity at Pine Hills Gun Club.

Dickenhorst and Anderson tied with seven other shotgunners as the close of the regulation shoot. More targets were called to break the deadlock with all being eliminated except Dickenhorst and Anderson who went into another extra session in which the doctor finally triumphed.

Dr. Dickenhorst also won the trophy for the April skeet honors for the Challenge Cup contest.

Bob Talton was the third place scorer, narrowly missing the finals.

In the Trap Shoot contest, Hugh Spurluck took top honors with a score of 46 out of 50.

This Sunday the club will hold its registered trap shoots with all members and visitors participating. The skeet range will also be open to both members and their guests.

Dodgers Ordered Run More, Bunt

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The general manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers has ordered his club to start running.

Others have gone even further, suggesting not only that the Dodgers start running but that, once under way, they should keep going.

The Dodgers, described by one local sports editor as civic disgraces after they blew four in a row in San Francisco, responded Monday night by pulling out of their losing streak in classic Dodger fashion.

Their rookie third baseman, Derrell Griffith, made three errors. One of their relief pitchers, Bob Miller, made two wild pitches. Their sometime all-star left fielder, Tom Davis, made two base-running mistakes.

But with the help of Frank Howard's new bat, the Dodgers still managed to defeat the Pittsburgh Pirates 7-6.

A couple of hours before the game General Manager Buzzie Bavasi told a newsman he had just held a meeting with Manager Walter Alston and the Dodger coaches.

Bavasi said he suggested that the team "isn't relying enough on the things it does best," that the Dodgers must "run more, bunt more and run - and - hit more."

"From now on," Bavasi said, "we're going to start playing for one run. And I don't care if the other teams know we're going to do it."

The Dodgers bunted three times Monday night and each time the man bunted along came around to score.

Howard drove in three runs with his new bat, surely the largest in the major leagues. It weighs 45 ounces, 11 ounces more than the one he had been using and close to a pound heavier than some in use today.

Howard brought in the first run with a sacrifice fly in the first inning, accounted for another with his 18th homer of the season in the fourth and drove home the deciding run with a sacrifice fly in the seventh.

The Pirates, assisted by two wild pitches and a couple of errors, had wiped out a four-run Dodger lead in their half of the seventh.

Each club had 11 hits. Bill Mazeroski and Manny Mota drove in two runs apiece for Pittsburgh and Ron Fairly batted in a pair for Los Angeles.

Ron Perranoski, the third Dodger pitcher, worked 1 2-3 scoreless innings and picked up his third victory in six decisions.

Elroy Face, fourth of five Pittsburgh pitchers, was touched for two runs in the seventh and took the loss. He is 2-3.

Right-hander Bob Priddy, who succeeded Pirate starter Joe Gibbon, hit John Roseboro with a pitch after Howard's homer and drew a warning from umpire Mel Steiner. That means Priddy will be fined $50.

Coca Cola Bottling swamped Optimist B, 25-10 in an industrial contest. Roberts got three homers and Johnson two for Coca Cola. Lewis got one homer and Stout got four hits for the losers. Strain and Roberts were the winning battery, while Waters and Lewis took the defeat.

Hill and Butch Lee also homered for the winners, while Lockheart banged one for the losers. Tom Gibson and Robby Russell were the winning battery with David Harrison and Buck McDuffie taking the defeat.

Ken Donahue On Alabama's Football Staff

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — The University of Alabama football coaching staff has been completed with the hiring of Ken Donahue, formerly of Mississippi State.

Crimson Tide athletic director and head coach Paul Bryant said Monday that Donahue "came to us highly recommended."

He said the 38-year-old former University of Tennessee player will take part in a program of increased training of the freshman team. Donahue's primary assignment, however, is working with the varsity defensive unit.

"Sam Bailey's in charge, but once the season gets underway, the varsity boys who'll be playing don't need so much coaching," Bryant said. "We're going to coach the freshmen more."

Donahue was a 1951 graduate of the University of Tennessee. He has been in charge of the over-all defense at Mississippi State for the past three years. A native of Knoxville, Tenn., he coached at Memphis State, 1951-55, and at Tennessee from 1956 to 1960.

$2 TO DIAL Pay-TV Pocketing California Sports

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Pay-TV is gobbling up California sports attractions faster than their seasons come about.

This spring, firm starting dates for Subscription Television, Inc., screenings of major league baseball games were announced. A few weeks later college football came into the fold on an experimental basis. Now the San Francisco Warriors have signed for all 80 of their National Basketball Association games.

The Warriors announced Monday their decision to join the cable television system, but no price for rights was disclosed.

Free television was accused of ruining attendance for some sports franchises when telecasts of home events saturated the airwaves.

The National Football League helped increase its draw with a controlled program of road game telecasts.

Now the Warriors should learn whether pay-TV can help stimulate attendance or at least boost the bank account—which could use some assistance after two seasons dominated by quarter- and half-full arenas.

No fee for the telecasts were announced, but STI sports director Tom Gallery said it would probably be about $2—the cost of a general admission ticket. Of course more than one person could watch.

STI, working mainly in Los Angeles and San Francisco, hopes to have 50,000 homes signed up by the end of the year.

But its sports program is scheduled to open July 17 with a Los Angeles baseball game between the Dodgers and Chicago Cubs.

A San Francisco night game between the Giants and Milwaukee Braves is set for Aug. 14 to be followed by all other Giants home games this season and all games in 1965—and in color as soon as practical.

The Dodgers plan a similar program, but may add some road games this year.

The Athletic Association of Western Universities plans an experimental college football program on pay-TV this fall with the blessing of the National Collegiate Athletic Association. Stanford, Southern California, California and UCLA are all in the AAWU.

STI is also reported negotiating with the Los Angeles Lakers of the NBA.

Amid the system's optimistic reports, apparently only one thing could ruin its plans: An initiative on California's November election ballot that would outlaw pay-TV.

Foes of pay-TV, whose ranks prominently include theater owners, would declare it "contrary to public policy to permit development of the subscription television business."

Bringing Up Baby

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Sometimes new mothers concentrate so hard on the technicalities of baby care they forget to enjoy their babies. Your delight in your baby is one of the great golden gifts you can give. The baby who is talked to (and laughed with) lovingly, develops security and sociability. The baby who is played with happily gains confidence early and learns invaluable lessons in co-operation.

Vitamin C availability. I know you mothers usually think in terms of orange juice for baby's vitamin C. But it should be reassuring to know that Gerber Strained Apple Juice and juice combinations are fortified to give your baby just as much of this important vitamin as Gerber Orange Juice. One can of any of the other eight Gerber Juices supplies over 100% of the recommended daily dietary allowance for vitamin C. 9 varieties in all including the new Mixed Fruit Juice and Prune-Orange.

Golden rules for baby care. By-the-book rules are fine as guides but all rules do not fit all babies and any rule is only as good as its flexibility. Guides to good mothering: heed your doctor and your common-sense head and lead with your heart. Happy is the baby whose mother makes adjustments for his (or her) individuality.

Growth patterns. Your baby grows much faster the first year than the next few put together. That's why he needs protein aplenty to give that growth a boost. Gerber Strained Meats are high in protein, low in fat and ever so easy to digest. Points to remember: • Gerber Meats are cooked by an exclusive process which preserves the utmost in nutritive values; insures a smooth moist texture. • They're the products of two great specialists—Gerber, famous for fine baby foods and Armour, famous for fine meats. ## Gift Not Necessary Under Circumstances

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I always can sleep through his thought waves. I thought mental telepathy was a lot of bunk, but because of my own experience I am now convinced that there is something to it.

I live in Glendale, California, and my boy friend lives in Buffalo, New York. As you know, it is three hours earlier in California than it is in New York. Well, lately I have been waking up at exactly 4 o'clock every morning, just as though an alarm clock had gone off. It's the craziest thing! I wake up, and when I look at the clock, it's always 4 a.m. sharp. My boy friend says he gets up at 7 a.m. every morning, and the first I have simply explained that if he thinks of me when he opens his eyes is me. I KNOW that is what is waking me up. His thought waves are just that powerful. When I tell people this, they look at me like I'm nuts. I KNOW I am right. How

New members of the Columbus Social Club Ladies Auxiliary were honored when the club held a meeting Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Tony Lewis on Marie Place.

Upon arrival, guests were registered by Mrs. Vita Marie Williams and Mrs. Raymond Horne.

The patio reflected the season with arrangements of summer flowers.

The refreshment table was covered with an Italian cutwork cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink daisies in a white milk glass compote with the silver letters inscribed "C S C Aux. On each side were large pink candles in white milkglass holders.

Following supper, Mrs. Margaret Tarver, president, introduced the new members and congratulated Mrs. Mica Jacola and her helpers for the supper.

IN LOVE IN GLENDALE

DEAR IN LOVE: Don't fight it. Either move into his time zone until you can marry the guy, or ask him not to think of you until 10 A. M., Eastern Standard time.

DEAR ABBY: Is it wrong to suggest "money" when relatives ask us what my husband wants for graduation? We are a struggling young couple who have scrimped to put my husband through law school. A number of relatives have asked us what they can give us, and every morning, and the first I have simply explained that if they gave us the money, we could put it toward a TV set. We need so many things for our apartment. Our families are now furious with us because they say we sound money hungry. Most of our relatives would spend around $20 or $25 on a gift anyway. Do you think we committed a breach of etiquette?

CURIOUS

DEAR CURIOUS: No. Those who ask what they may give are genuinely interested in giving something practical. Only a hypocrite would ask for a suggestion, and then be offended by an honest answer.

Ask Dean To Tell Her About Cleanliness

BY DOROTHY RICKER

Dear Mrs. Ricker:

I am 15 years old and I like a boy who is also 15. The problem is, he likes me too much. We went steady for a while and when we broke up I understood I could go with anyone I pleased. His idea is that I still belong to him! We have continued to date and he spends money on me like he has it to burn — and he does.

I had a chance to go on a hayride recently and he didn't want to go. I wanted to go anyway, but I didn't because he said he would be through with me if I went. My problem is, how do I get him to give me more freedom and let me pick my own friends. Mrs. Ricker, I want to live my own life, for a few years anyway.

"OWNED"

Dear "Owned":

If you want to live your own life you had better get your thinking straightened out right now. Your problem isn't the boy — it's YOU!

A girl who lets a boy govern her freedom and stop her from choosing her own friends has only herself to blame. So, if you feel "owned" it is your own fault. My advice is to stop dating this boy completely and develop enough gumption to keep from getting into a situation like this again.

Jonesville Man Claims Texas Girl As Bride

Before an altar illuminated by candlelight, the marriage of Miss Jimmie Lynn Brownson and George David Parish was solemnized at 7 p.m. Saturday, June 20 in the First Methodist Church of Liberty, Texas. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Brownson of Liberty and Mr. Parish is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Parish of Jonesville.

Rev. Ronald Deviller performed the double ring vows in a setting of white bridal flowers, traditional greenery and candlelight.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a full length gown of silk peau de soie accented by Alencon lace, which formed a deep border at the hemline. Back fullness was released into a Cathedral train, attached to a waistline bow. Her shoulder length veil of illusion fell in a pouf from a toque cap of white embroidered Alencon lace over peau de soie. Her only jewelry was a drop pearl on a platinum chain, a gift of the groom. She carried a cascade of carnations and stephanotis encircling a white orchid.

Miss Judy Guidry, Morgan City, was maid of honor and wore a floor length gown of white silk organza over taffeta with a detachable back panel. Her headpiece was a white silk organza rose with nose veil of illusion and she carried a crystal chalice entwined with ivy and white satin streamers and containing a single white lighted candle.

James Graves Parish, brother of the groom, served as best man. Ushers were Archie Carter of Houston, Tex., Richard Boyce Parish, Wiley Bell Jr., Alexandria and Eugene Weber.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church. Mrs. Brownson wore a gown of shell pink Italian silk lined with jacket of imported French Chantilly lace, matching hat and accessories and a cymbidium orchid. Mrs. Parish, mother of the groom, wore a two-piece pink linen and eyelet ensemble with matching eyelet embroidered coat, pink accessories and a pink cymbidium orchid.

For traveling the bride changed into suit of seaford green silk with matching wide-brimmed straw hat, white accessories and the orchid from her bouquet. The couple will be at home at Spartanburg, S. C.

Mrs. Parish is a graduate of the University of Southwestern Louisiana where she received a BA degree in English in May of this year. She was a member of Kappa Delta sorority and Sigma Tau Delta and Alpha Psi Omega honorary fraternities and was a 1964 recipient of a Student Council Senior Award of Merit. Mr. Parish graduated from the University of Southwestern Louisiana where he was selected for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. He is presently completing work on an MA degree at Converse College, Spartanburg, S. C.

worried about age?

here's truth about hormones for face, neck and hands

NEW YORK (Special): —Reams have been written about hormones. Will they make women of 75 look 16 again? Absolutely not. Will they make women of 60 feel like they were 20 again?

To know the truth about hormones you need to learn just two simple facts: (1) The beauty of a woman's skin starts breaking down as signs of age begin, because the female organs fail to supply enough estrogenic hormones to feed the skin — less and less as you grow older. (2) Estrogenic hormones can be supplied to the skin by rubbing on a penetrating formula containing the hormones.

Here is a test reported in a scientific journal, one of many that showed similarly sensational results: Twenty-five women applied hormones to one side of the face and neck, and to the other hand, a similar preparation containing no hormones was applied the same way.

These are the reports in simple words:

Skin lines (or dry-skin wrinkles) quickly dimmed or disappeared from sight as creases and hollows filled out.

Blotches and "old-age freckles" faded on hands, face and neck.

Skin was softer, clearer, seemed to lose its chronic dryness and take on a revived freshness and vitality. All these amazing things happened on the side where the hormones were used. Meanwhile no comparable changes occurred on the other side. The same withered, lifeless complexion.

Now to select a good estrogenic hormone preparation, here is what you need to know: the strength of the hormone preparation must appear on the label! The recommended monthly allotment for the skin is 20,000 International Units.

The base should be as rich as possible in penetrating Sesame Oil and moisturizing Lanolin and when "rubbed in" your skin should not feel greasy or sticky. On first application, your skin should feel a radiant glow of revitalized youthfulness and refreshment.

An extra good buy in hormone products today is a preparation called HORMONEX Beauty Serum. It is made by a trustworthy 50-year-old laboratory.

It is inexpensive to use. A 100-day supply costs only $3.50. Look younger quickly. See these dry-skin wrinkles smooth out, starting today! You may obtain Hormonex Beauty Serum at:

In writing "Winning Play in Contract Bridge", Fred L. Karpin has made another valuable contribution to bridge literature. Mr. Karpin's thesis is that the play to trick one by both defense and declarer is vital. The extreme soundness of this point is well known in expert circles, but in less rarified strata, time and thought are often expended late in the hand in a (generally) vain attempt to recoup the loss from playing too rapidly or unthinkingly to trick one.

There is nothing revolutionary, indeed, even new, in the book. But it is a comprehensive codification and sound analysis of information hitherto available, if at all, only piecemeal in many books and in articles in bridge journals. It is a book well worth having.

In the diagram hand, declarer parsimoniously played dummy's 2 of clubs at trick one, not wishing to sacrifice the queen. East played the seven, and South won with the king. Later, when East regained the lead with the ace of hearts, he led a second club and declarer was one down. A moment's reflection would have dictated the play of club queen at trick one. East is virtually compelled to win with the ace, and declarer's club holding now constitutes a tenace holding over East. South's losers are now limited to one club, one heart, and one diamond, and his contract is fulfilled.

Housewarming Party Honors A. L. Embanatos

In courtesy to Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Embanato Sr., who have just moved into their new home, 2321 Whitney Drive, a trio of hostesses entertained with a housewarming on Sunday.

Hostesses for the event were Mrs. W. D. Perkins, Mrs. M. J. Varino and Mrs. Marie Moncrief.

Approximately 150 guest who called between the hours of 2 until 6 p.m. were greeted at the door by Mrs. Elma Hinton. Receiving with the Embanatos was their daughter, Mrs. Bill Burroughs.

Permanent arrangements of roses in yellow tones were noted throughout the home and on the buffet, which also held a pair of silver candelabra. The refreshment table was covered with a lime green cloth overlaid with Italian crochet. A pyramid arrangement of white stock, agapantha and miniature chrysanthemums in a crystal and silver epergne formed the central decor.

For the occasion Mrs. Embanato was wearing a mauve lace sheath with seed pearls tracing the neckline. Mrs. Perkins wore a black silk shantung sheath; Mrs. Varino was dressed in an aqua crepe chiffon shift and Mrs. Moncrief wore a dress of white lace over pink linen.

Serving at the table were Mrs. Buster Parker and Mrs. Paul Bruscatto while Mrs. Catherine Jacola was at the punch bowl.

Why Grow Old

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

There is nothing which is more damaging to health and also to good looks than worry and tension. They can make you feel absolutely exhausted, can cause you to break out in a rash and may even change your facial contour.

Yet many women are as tense as though they were ready for battle. The typical housewife has such varied responsibilities and is so constantly subjected to small but hectic crises in her daily life that she is extremely likely to be tense a lot of the time. If she has children, of course, the situation is even more complex.

JUST FEELS HURRIED

A woman may not have any really big problems but she may waste tremendous amounts of energy by just feeling hurried and hectic. This can become a habit. Most of us get into this sort of a rut unless we take steps to avoid it.

There are a few habits which I have found to be helpful. Try not to fret over non-essentials. If the dress you had planned to wear to a party doesn't get back from the cleaner in time — well, wear something else, but don't waste energy on it.

If your child catches a cold, and the plumbing goes haywire and the strawberries you ordered are unusable and the plaster falls and Aunt Susie arrives with her two poodles on the eve of a dinner party which you had hoped would be attractive, don't cry. Just sit down in the middle of the mess, and laugh. Almost all hectic situations have an element of humor in them.

For heaven's sake don't waste your glands being sensitive about what someone said or about some slight, real or imaginary. It usually is imaginary anyway, and if not, the culprit, no doubt had some problems of her own which made her act that way. If she is just plain impossible, why bother about her anyway? It always amazes me that so many women spend

WAIT TILL TOMORROW

Try to be flexible. Don't take yourself too seriously. If you couldn't accomplish all you had planned to do today, then do it tomorrow. If you have to push yourself to the point of exhaustion to get away on a trip today, go tomorrow, or maybe even next week.

The skies won't fall! The old world and your relatives and friends will go along much the same. You will find life more interesting and others will find you more interesting. You will live a lot longer and look prettier years longer, and accomplish as much and likely more,

DECORATIVE TILES

Ceramic tiles are coming into greater prominence as hot plates, trivets and conversation pieces. Many historic and vacation spots offer them as souvenirs. You can add an artistic touch to your home by strategically placing a few of these tiles about your kitchen, living room, den and patio. These decorative tiles come in hundreds of hand-painted or silk screened designs, and can be found to match almost any decor.

VOICE OF BROADWAY DOROTHY KILGALLEN

JOTTINGS IN PENCIL . . . Broadway producers George W. George and Frank Granat, heroes of this past season's best theatrical success story, report that they have sold both of their hit shows to the movies. The price tags are interesting: "Any Wednesday," an amusing but trivial little sex comedy, brought $750,000; "Dylan," a splendid play about a literary giant, went for a mere $250,000 . . .

Secretary of State Dean Rusk may step out of his important post in the very near future, and his departure would be followed by quite a few changes in the State Dept. Washington insiders don't believe a successor has been chosen, but they put Adlai Stevenson high on the list of possibilities.

In Las Vegas, proprietors of gambling establishments, "piece men," behind the scenes bosses and even some high rollers are doing no talking at all about the subpoenas recently handed to them by the FBI. Some of the big gamblers, who feel they can't stand a checking, have been scared away . . . Doris Day may make minor headlines by trying to get out of the movie "Made in Paris" for Metro. She isn't too pleased with the script as it now stands, and they're due to start shooting in October . . . Darren McGavin won't do a Yul Brynner when he co-stars with Rise Stevens in "The King and I" at Lincoln Center. He just couldn't bear the thought of shaving his head, so he persuaded composer Richard Rodgers to let him play the role with the shortest possible crew cut . . . dyed black, of course . . . Reporters in Mexico might check Movita, Marlon Brando's estranged wife. Reports of a South-of-the-Border divorce are cropping up from New York to California.

Broadway Guessing Games: One of the most important night-clubs on the eastern seaboard—a showcase for "name" acts—is close to bankruptcy. The owner has had a bouquet of problems, including taxes, the general lack of business that prevailed in most places last winter, and a succession of stars who cost a mint and didn't draw customers.

A featured actor is trying to get out of one of Broadway's smash hits. He's clashed with the director and the producer about the way his part was whittled down before opening night, and he complains that his presence in the cast is the best-kept secret in town.

Jerry Grayson, the talented young comedian at Mister J's, is a leading contender for the title role when Milton Berle's life story is filmed. Jerry's physical resemblance to Milton is striking, and his delivery is much the same, too. (Of course, with Hollywood's insistence on big names for big pictures, Rock Hudson may wind up with the part.) If Jackie Gleason's accountants are wondering why his bank balance is $54.20 more than it should be, this department is happy to fill them in. The Great One issued a check in that amount to a little place near Yankee Stadium—the Stadium Pizzeria Parlor on 161st Street—for a load of "pies" he took along to nibble on during a ballgame. Since his photograph is on his checks as well as his signature, the owners have framed it and put it in the window. They've become neighborhood celebrities as a result—much better for their egos than plain old cash . . . Anita Louise is up for a part in the upcoming George Baxt comedy, "Not In The Stars," for which her friend Jane Wyman has already been signed . . . Nice gesture: Mickey Rooney gave a piece of his new television show to his stand-in of 27 years, Sig Frolich.

Suzanne Pleshette wants an immediate divorce from Troy Donahue, but he isn't acting like a man in a hurry . . . Sybil Burton's New York friends—and there are zillions of them—expect her to return to the U. S. in late September, via the Queen Mary . . . Mrs. Donald Cook's restaurant, The Leopard, is such a success—despite those incredibly high prices—that she has asked the city building authorities for permission to transform her upstairs office into another little dining room . . . The recent 20th Century-Fox junket, which took 130 newspaper and TV reporters to four countries in a week—at a cost of more than $500,000—proved such a success the company plans to do it again, but in reverse, next year. They'll jet 100 European writers and editors to this country to the location for "Custer's Last Stand."

Revolts Tear Congo As U.N. Withdraws

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

According to the blueprint, this should be a day of celebration and thanksgiving for the republic of the Congo.

The fact that on this fourth independence day of the Congo, anxiety and fear shows how far the builders have departed from the blueprint.

As the last of 20,000 United Nations troops depart the Congo, revolt large and small tears at the provinces of Kwilu, Kivu and North Katanga.

In four years, U.N. peace-keeping efforts cost $408 million, with approximately $171 million of it coming from the United States. And peace and stability in the Congo still are measured in terms of years away. Independence in the Congo did not have an auspicious beginning.

Scarcely had King Baudouin of Belgium proclaimed the Congolese free than Patrice Lumumba, the country's first premier, launched a "humiliating slavery" of Belgian colonialism . . . "the ironies, the insults, the blows that we had to submit to morning, noon and night because we were Negroes."

The history of the Congo has indeed been full of ironies, of promises made and broken, of a tremendous United Nations effort and a withdrawal today with peace not yet secure, and, at the beginning, of a huge and strategic territory whose economic base had been established without the necessary accompaniment of education and political responsibility.

Not the least ironic is the gathering now in Leopoldville, the capital, of names familiar in the first days of independence when first the new republic seemed destined to fly apart by its own violence.

Moise Tshombe, who in the early moments of Congolese independence decided he wanted no part of it and established himself as president of the mineral-rich secessionist province of Katanga. He fought three wars against the United Nations and Congolese troops, and lost.

The former self-styled King Albert Kalonji who declared himself king, emperor and god of the "independent diamond state" of Kasai Province.

And finally, Antoine Gizenga, once the favorite African son of the Soviets and former leftist president of Orientale Province.

Lumumba, whose mantle Gizenga has attempted to take over. Of the early lones, Lumumba is the important one not present. He died while imprisoned under the care of Tshombe. It was no great loss to the West, only the way of his dying which came about allegedly while trying to escape.

Among the other three there is no loss of the ambition which drove them earlier.

Their aid is sought now by the Leopoldville government of Premier Cyrille Adoula and President Joseph Kasavubu in the desperate need for help against Communist-supported revolts in both East and West and mounting unrest among disillusioned tribesmen.

And from this may come the final irony. For Tshombe may emerge the new premier. The sophisticated Tshombe has this advantage:

"I have," he says, "no inferiority complex toward the white man as do some of my Congolese colleagues."

Some Conclusions Quickly Reached

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping to conclusions: Bowlegged girls have less trouble getting dates than girls who are knock-kneed.

The dogs that are the most fun to own are poodles, fox terriers and dachshunds. Bloodhounds always look like they have just lost their last and only friend.

The loneliest sound in the world is a clarinet played late at night all alone by a fellow who knows one end of the thing from the other.

Half the people who take gum from an airline stewardess never bother to chew it.

Nothing is impossible to a man who can learn to like breakfast cereal with yogurt on it. My idea of a good way to wake up in the morning is to down about eight ounces of a mixture of tomato and sauerkraut juices. Sounds awful, tastes great.

Psychiatrists are the worst of all cocktail party bores. After listening to people talk to them all day, they can't shut up themselves all evening.

One thing I have never met, and don't expect to, is a U.S. senator with an inferiority complex.

What this country needs is a longer football season and a shorter baseball season. A lot of people are tired of professional baseball hesitate to say so for fear that it sounds unpatriotic.

People who habitually send clever greeting cards get a utation for witiness they don't deserve. In most cases they are too shiftless mentally to sit down and write a warm and readable letter.

It is hard to tell which is more dangerous to the nation—the cold war or the three-hour business lunch.

Why is it you never hear so much about a fellow after all his friends get together and give him a testimonial dinner?

Many executives would last five years longer if they habitually took a half hour mid-afternoon nap in their offices. But they're afraid to do so for fear it would look like self-pampering. Most wives take sofa siestas—and that's usually one reason they probably outlive their husbands.

Most crooks are underweight. Fat people aren't necessarily more honest by nature; they have just found out that they aren't fast enough on their feet to be anything else.

The guy who wouldn't lend you a dollar is always the first to give you advice on how to cure the hiccups.

The most common matrimonial mistake young brides make is to try to take the place of his friends in her husband's life. Any woman who tries to be everything to a man is bound to drive him from her—if he can get away.

When you meet a fellow with a wart on his nose, you always remember him—but somehow it's hard to recall later just what he had to say.

Cassini's Young Fashions Praised

NEW YORK (AP) — Some "fanny bands" from fitting sheaths were dressed up with white collars and cuffs. White touched up black dress-up dresses. A wide white collar, for example, framed the bare back of a slithering black crepe which Cassini affectionately calls, "Missionary's Downfall."

A white, high-sleeved blouse kept the "Farmer's Daughter" model from exposing too much in her low cut gown with its zany jeweled suspenders.

Not so cautious was Cassini, however, in creating his crescent-shaped decolletee. Both versions, the small double crescent or the large single crescent oozed with femininity.

Down the street, Indian maidens lit incense sticks, turned up a mystic chant on the recorder, then introduced designer Adele Simpson and her sari-inspired Western clothes.

Created at the request of the Indian government from rich silks and brocades, the princess formals, mandarin coats, tunics, or theater suits had simplicity short skirts, some with satin line.
